Early Snow Takes 10 Lives in East

Gotham Fall of 7.3 Inches Breaks '11 Record; 2-Foot Storm Hits Maryland

NEW YORK (AP)—A bright sun returned today in the wake of yesterday's bitter early season snowstorm that lashed the east coast from Connecticut to Virginia, causing 10 deaths and snarling transportation.

Six lives were lost in New Jersey, two in New York and two in Maryland.

Despite the sunshine, the temperature in many places continued below the freezing mark keeping highways slippery and hazardous. Huge forces of road workers turned out for the giant task of clearing travel lanes.

Winds Pile Up Drifts

There were record snowfalls in New York and New Jersey, and stinging hard winds piled up huge drifts in spots. As the storm moved on into the Atlantic, the wind eased.

The snow measured up to two feet in Maryland. In northern Maine temperatures fell to 10 below zero although the state itself escaped the snowstorm. Winds reached 45 miles per hour.

Accidents were numerous and transportation difficulties great for home-bound office workers late yesterday in many places, particularly the heavily populated New York and Philadelphia areas.

Early today the New York City sanitation department, canceling the day off some workers ordinarily would receive, threw an 8,700-man cleanup brigade onto the streets. Through the night snowplows had battled to keep main arteries open.

25-Hour Fall

The city received 7.3 inches of snow during a continuous 25-hour fall, topping the 6.5 mark for the date set in 1911. The storm ended at 10:30 o'clock last night. Very seldom is such a storm recorded so early in the season.

Winds ranged up to 45 miles an hour at the height of the storm, but had diminished considerably by today. Abandoned cars dotted the streets and morning buses crept at slow paces, both from the icy conditions and extra numbers of riders swarming on them.

Similar conditions existed in Philadelphia, which measured six inches of snow in the city and 10 inches in suburban areas.

Many Schools Closed

Many rural and suburban schools were closed.

The storm center, located off the Delaware coast, veered out to sea last night. But before bowing out, it spread a white blight for hundreds of miles.

Bogging down under the impact were auto and bus traffic, rail lines and plane service. It was slow and hard going, too, for pedestrians.

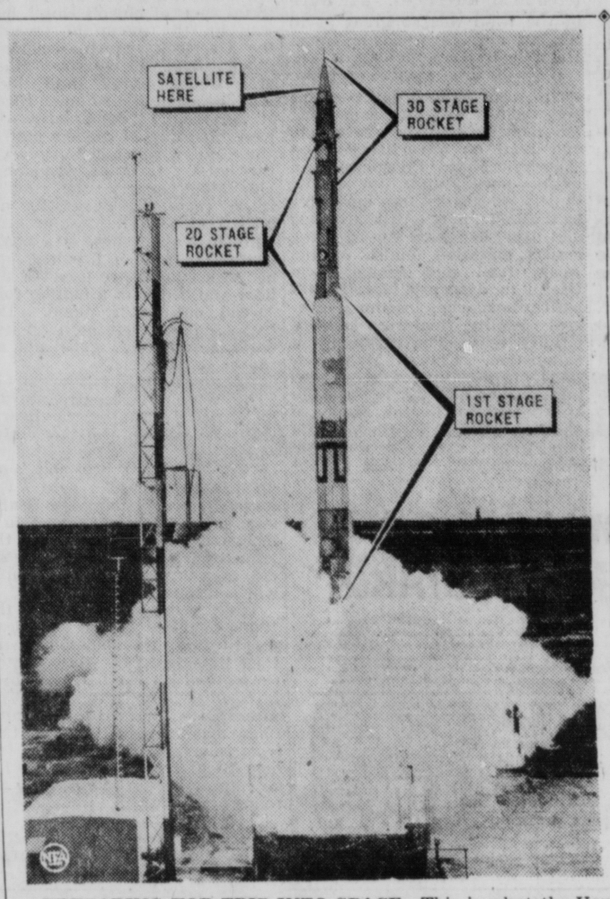
Commuter trains, jammed with extra passengers because of highway hazards, all reported delays. One Pennsylvania railroad commuter train was 3 hours and 20 minutes late. It stalled in a huge drift in Freehold, N. J. The conductor walked a mile for help while 12 passengers shivered in the single car and waited.

Commuters Delayed

Other commuter trains, including the New Haven, the New York Central and Long Island Rail Road, reported delays of up to 45 minutes.

Several hundred subway passengers were stranded on a wind-swept trestle over New York's Jamaica Bay as trains stalled on an overwater section of track where snow and ice knocked out power. Some passengers had to wait there four hours.

Connecticut officials warned motorists to stay off the Merritt Parkway. Pennsylvania completely closed sections of its turnpike. Speed limits on the New Jersey Turnpike and the New York State Thruway were cut from the normal 60 m.p.h. to 55 m. p.h.



PREPARING FOR TRIP INTO SPACE—This is what the Vanguard three-stage rocket will look like when it is launched at Cape Canaveral, Fla., in an effort to send the first U. S. satellite into space. GOP Wants Check by Lefkowitz

Utica Liquor Co. Records Seized

OWEGO (AP) — A grand jury in Tioga County will probe gangland's celebrated get-together in Apalachin.

Gov. Harriman's acting investigation commissioner, Arthur L. Reuter, and Dist. Atty. George Boldman of Tioga County announced jointly yesterday that the grand jury would be given the case "as soon as organization details can be perfected."

Politicians and other law enforcers were also busy yesterday.

Want Lefkowitz Probe

In Syracuse, the Legislature's Republican leaders criticized the Democratic governor for not authorizing the state attorney general, Republican Louis J. Lefkowitz, to launch an investigation of New York State crime.

They proposed to give Lefkowitz a half-million dollars for a special statewide crackdown. They demanded that Harriman, whose approval is needed for emergency appropriations, cooperate in this.

SLA Seizes Records

In Utica, the State Liquor Authority seized the records of the Utica Retail Liquor Co., owned by the wife of Joseph Falcone, one of the 60 delegates to the mobster convention last month. The SLA said it was investigating five others.

The Falcone liquor firm was the second to have its records taken into custody by the SLA.

Meet Over Three Hours

Reuter and Boldman met in Owego yesterday for three and a half hours. At the conclusion, Reuter said the governor had approved a request of Boldman, a Republican, for aid. This was given, Reuter said, so that "Tioga County shall not be unduly burdened in a cause which is of obvious statewide concern."

The two officials said that since Apalachin was in Tioga County a grand jury here was "exclusively empowered by law to inquire into the facts and circumstances. . . ."

Limited to State

Boldman said he would be able to subpoena only the New Yorkers who attended the conclave. He said he had no jurisdiction over the out-of-state visitors.

The district attorney said he expected to have difficulty in reaching some of the men for whom subpoenas will be issued.

Earlier this week, Reuter said he was considering calling a special grand jury into session to question the 36 New Yorkers attending the meeting Nov. 14 in the hilltop mansion of Joseph Barbara, an Endicott beer and soft drink distributor whose business records also have been seized by the State Liquor Authority.

Will Call All

Yesterday's statement said all persons whose testimony would be relevant to the probe and who were subject to the jury's subpoena power would be called.

In Syracuse, the Republican leaders announced their latest plan after a policy meeting of 41 GOP assemblymen brushed aside the governor's claim that he had no power to appoint a statewide anti-rackets prosecutor.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck said Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney, also a Republican, joined him in proposing an emergency appropriation of $500,000 for the attorney general's office to start a "round-the-clock attack on racketeers."

Must Be Authorized

Under state law, the attorney general cannot make special investigations unless authorized by the governor.

Lefkowitz has asked Harriman for permission to go ahead, but the governor is conducting probes through Reuter, the liquor authority and other agencies.

ROBERT E. DAVIS

Knitwear Leader Reports Demand For Future Good

Appointment of Robert E. Davis to president of Kingston Knitting Mills, Inc., 139 Cornell Street, was announced today by the firm's board of directors.

Davis, who recently returned from a nation-wide business trip, predicted increased consumer demand for knitwear.

Anticipates Good Business

"The outlook for sales of sweaters and knit shirts in the immediate months to come is very optimistic, judging from the increased consumer demand for knitwear throughout the country. Kingston Knitting Mills can anticipate continued production at high levels.

Davis has been associated with Kingston Knitting Mills, and Barclay Knitwear Co., Inc., affiliated companies, for the past eight years. He has worked in production and sales positions in the companies' New York City and local offices.

He was formerly vice-president of the local knitting mills and, as president, will continue his duties as secretary of Barclay Knitwear.

Succeeds Pauker

Davis succeeds Michael Pauker who has been elected chairman of the board.

Kingston Knitting Mills has been a part of the local industrial scene since 1934, manufacturing men's and boy's knitted outerwear.

Fair Street Building Badly Damaged by Fire

A woman was rescued from a two-alarm fire which threatened costly damage to a three-story building at 270 Fair Street and was still being fought by firemen at Freeman press time today.

Four firemen were also under hospitalization as the result of dense smoke which still charged the building heavily more than an hour after the blaze.

Firemen in Hospital

At Kingston Hospital were Fireman Robert Maines, of 5 Grand View Avenue, of the Wiltwyck station, Capt. A. Foster Winfield of the Wicks volunteer company and Hugh Greer, 22 Staples Street.

Fireman Francis T. Argulewitz of Central Station was taken to the Benedictine Hospital by Deputy Police Chief Robert F. Murphy.

Reports on the condition of firemen were not available at press time.

Starts After Noon

The first call on the fire came at 12:09 p. m., and two alarms were sounded at 12:22 and 12:24 p. m.

A stubborn battle by firemen was still in progress at 2 p. m., but it was reported then that the fire had not spread beyond the business and apartment building in which it started.

Mrs. Bowen Rescued

Firemen rescued Mrs. Margaret Bowen, a third-floor resident, who was trapped there for some time and was brought down a ladder by firemen. James McElrath, central station, Anthony Denton, a volunteer and Fire Commissioner James Locke who is also a volunteer.

A Schultz ambulance remained at the scene as a safety measure as firemen fought the blaze against heavy smoke.

The building houses the Singer Sewing Machine Co., and the Lipgar Photo Studio, the law office of Norman Keller, of New Paltz, and office of the Ulster County Division of Licensed Practical Nurses.

Lipgar Smells Smoke

The fire, which apparently originated near a furnace in the cellar was discovered by A. H. Lipgar who smelled smoke and went down to investigate. He said he saw flames on the Singer Sewing Machine side of the building which is beyond a basement partition.

Lipgar said he went from the building with an employe, Vincent McDonough, Lincoln Park Place, and notified Wiltwyck Station which is diagonally across the street.

Lipgar said the smoke was so dense that after he and his em-

Neighbors Asking Help for Family Burned Out Dec. 4

Neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Simmons of Mettacahonts, who lost their home and all of their possessions in a tragic early morning fire yesterday, have rallied to their assistance and have issued an appeal for aid for the stricken family.

Bruce Schoonmaker, a neighbor, said today the family had lost everything, including clothing and assistance of any kind was welcome.

Members of the family are temporarily staying with relatives in Kerhonkson.

Need Everything

Beside two year old Paul Simmons, who lost his life in the fire, there are six other children ranging in age from seven months to 13 years. Clothing for the children, furniture for a new home or financial assistance is being solicited by several loyal neighbors.

The children are Robert, age 10: Barry, age 6; Carol, age 5; LeRoy, age 3; 13 year old Edgar who resides at a neighbor's home, and Wayne, seven months.

Shortly after the fire, assistance began to come in from neighbors but many persons had no idea where to send contributions, Bruce Schoonmaker, a neighbor said today. Since the children and the entire family lost all of their clothing, except what they wore, clothing would be welcome, Mr. Schoonmaker said.

Where to Send Donations

In addition to clothing, the family is in dire need of household furnishings to begin a new home when a place is located.

Any donations may be left at the home of Bruce Schoonmaker, next door neighbor to the Simmons family at Mettacahonts, or at his father's home, Grant A.

Russia Has First Atom Surface Ship

LONDON (AP)—Russia scored another first today, launching the first atomic-powered surface ship.

The 16,000-ton icebreaker Lenin slid down the ways in Leningrad, Moscow Radio announced. Shipyard workers had originally hoped to launch it at the time of celebrations Nov. 7 of the Bolshevik Revolution's 40th anniversary.

The broadcast said the ship will be capable of breaking through ice over 6 feet thick, will use only a "few grams of its atomic fuel" every 24 hours and will be able to remain at sea for "several months."

The Soviet Union needs giant ice breakers to work along its frozen north coast.

Would Cut Arms Spending to Aid Missile Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Influential Democrats called today for military belt-tightening to help provide added missile funds within the balanced budget President Eisenhower hopes to maintain.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate's Republican leader, told reporters after a day-long White House legislative conference yesterday that Eisenhower and GOP congressional chieftains are "all very hopeful there will be a balanced budget."

Rates Won't Go Down

To attain that objective in the face of world conditions and defense needs, Knowland said he expects present rates of corporation and excise taxes to be continued. The higher rates, in effect on a year to year basis since the Korean War started, expire next June unless Congress renews them.

Knowland said no over-all spending figure had been arrived at for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, but another conferee said the new budget is likely to be very close to the $71,800,000,000 estimated outlays for this year. This original estimate has since been raised to 72 billions.

Can't Spend As Much

Reports Differ on New Launching of Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States called off its proposed test launching of the gamma baby moon last night only 50 minutes short of the target hour.

The combination of a series of minor difficulties — particularly a leaky disconnect valve on the launching rocket's liquid oxygen tank — and a bad break on the weather — overly strong winds forced the postponement.

May Resume Today

In Washington, John P. Hagen, director of the U. S. Project Vanguard program to launch a series of research satellites during the International Geophysical Year, said it was his guess that the launching process would be resumed later today so it might be completed tonight or in the early hours of Friday.

But J. Paul Walsh, deputy director, told a midnight news conference at Patrick Air Force Base officers club that there would be no renewal of the launching attempt today.

Walsh said the launching crew could get the 72-foot rocket ready immediately if it had to, but it would be up to the Defense Department to set the date for a new attempt.

He added that supervisors of the missile test range, 5,000 miles into the South Atlantic from the test center here, had been asked to give the satellite project the best time available for another effort.

Heavy Firing Schedule

Cape Canaveral is teeming with test missiles—Army Jupiters, Air Force Chors and Snarks, assorted Navy weapons — awaiting firing schedules. Fitting them in has become a herculean task for this over-worked, over-crowded center.

At Cambridge, Mass., the Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratory announced that the 6.4 inch, 3¼ pound test sphere, once it has entered an orbit, will be known officially as "1957 Gamma," for the third letter of the Greek alphabet.

The name would signify that this was the third man-made moon of the year. If the Soviets launch a third Sputnik before Gamma gets going, the U. S. orbiter presumably would take the name of Delta, or No. 4.

Says U. S. Must Hurry Weapons to Insure Survival

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) said last night the nation has some catching up to do and "We must go into high gear at once to produce the weapons that will insure survival."

Most of us he said, will live to see space ships. "Rockets to the moon are just over the horizon. Space ships are only a few years away and most of us will live to see them.

"The scientists are already talking—in serious terms—about the day when we will escape the solar system and explore the universe," Johnson said.

He said "recent scientific achievements by the Soviet Union have resulted in grave problems for the United States, that the nation has been completely outstripped in a field where we

100 Persons Feared Dead As London Trains Collide

LONDON (AP) — Rescue workers today said approximately 100 persons died in the rush-hour crash of two trains taking commuters and Christmas shoppers to their homes in thick fog last night.

Salvage crews, moving through a nightmare scene of fog and twisted metal brought out 73 bodies. They said 25 to 35 bodies still were trapped in the mangled coaches.

Police said more than 200 others were injured, including 110 seriously hurt. Determination of the final toll of dead and injured may take several days.

Arms and legs of still bodies protruded from the windows and shattered roofs of the coaches. The rescue crews said there was no hope that any still remaining in the wreckage were alive.

"This is going to be a long job. We haven't even started," said a member of one salvage gang.

Tarpaulin screens were erected along roadways overlooking the scene in southeast London to hide the wreckage from passing motorists and the curious.

Horrible as the wreck was, it just missed being even worse, for a third train almost was involved.

An 11-coach steam train drove into the rear of a 10-coach electric train halted near St. Johns' station. The impact shot cars into the air and brought down part of an overhead viaduct which carried another electric rail line.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Seventy years does not seem a long time in history, yet how times have changed in that short span around here, according to the Kingston Argus of September 14, 1887. Yet, the weather never seems to change.

From Denning. "On Wednesday afternoon a cyclone passed through the valley of the West Branch of the Neversink from west to east, doing great damage. William G. Satterlee, who lives at Frost Valley about five miles beyond the head of the Big Indian Valley in the town of Denning, was the chief sufferer. Two large sheds belonging to Satterlee were destroyed, his wagon house was unroofed and the chimneys were blown from his dwelling. His orchard also suffered. John L. Whipple's barn was wrecked, the roof of his dwelling smashed in and his chimneys torn down. Hay and other loose articles were scattered in all directions. The force of the wind was so great as to lift up and carry large forest trees."

Perhaps one thinks that description of present day vitamins and their ability are something lets look back to the above date and read on advertisement on "Cherry Malt Phosphites— a brain, nerve and life giving tonic. Pleasant and agreeable to the taste, acts on the stomach and liver, increases the appetite, assists digestion, builds up the weak, frail and broken-down. Useful in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, headache, insomnia, general debility, malaria, lack of vitality, nervous prostration and exhaustion. Cherry Malt contains blood-making, life sustaining properties. It is friendly and healthful to the stomach, and can be used by the delicate lady, infant, the aged or infirm. $1 per bottle." Sounds as appetizing as a good receipe.

From Woodstock there are social news of Mead's Hotel, half way up the mountain towards the Overlook, which accommodated about 65 guests. Many professional people and their families spent the summer there. It also said: "Some boys who were boarding at Mead's built a stone hut a short distance from the hotel. It is an abandoned blue stone quarry, the rubbish being very convenient for its construction. The walls are quite high, and there is a board roof. There is a fireplace and hemlock boughs are used for the floor and bed with a buffalo robe spread out to lie upon. The boys slept in their hut and had dark lanterns and guns and all tne accoutrements."

Another item from Woodstock: "The Windmill recently put up by V. & F. Shultis, at Bearsville, is working to the entire satisfication of the owners. House and store are now supplied with water." Also "The authorities are having the Bearsville school building moved to a more desirable location on the lot about 30 feet north of the old site. Miss Rachel Shultis will continue as teacher."

They were celebrating the 100th birthday of the American constitution at Philadelphia with the President of the United States and his cabinet and other high officials being present. The West Shore Railroad was running an excursion, round trip from Kingston-Philadelphia for only $4.50 from Sept. 12 to 17. One special train it was only $4 round trip."

About 10 per cent of all cattle in the United States are in the "Lone Star State."

ITHACA (AP)—Louis P. Smith, 86, chairman of the board of the Ithaca Gun Co. and mayor of Ithaca twice, died yesterday at his home.

Smith started work in the company when he was 18. He began at 7½ cents an hour as a milling machine operator. He was vice president for many years and president from 1946 to 1956.

He served two terms as mayor—in 1921-23 and 1933-35.

Criticism May Help U. S.

Adlai's Role May Work Out as Double Benefit

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration got a bear by the tail in Adlai Stevenson. He and the administration have worked together briefly. It's probably the last time for both.

He came in as a consultant, goes out as a critic. Yet his role as consultant and then as critic may work to the benefit of both himself and the administration.

If Stevenson had refused to help the administration with advice, any criticism he offered later might be regarded as typical Democratic criticism from a constant critic.

But, put in the position of a man whose ideas the administration wanted and who saw policy-making from the inside, he can expect a more attentive audience for what he says.

Must Be Persuasive

Yet his very criticism—it seems he doesn't think the administration is asking Congress for enough money in foreign aid and enough secret-sharing cooperation with the allies—may help the administration.

It will if he is persuasive in inducing Congress to give Eisenhower at least as much as he requests. It's usual in the capitol to give a president less than he asks.

People in a position to know Stevenson's thinking said last night he has no quarrel with administration plans as far as they go, but doesn't believe they go far enough.

These informants said Stevenson next year will go before Congress and appeal publicly for a "crash" program, bigger and broader and more urgent than he believes the administration is considering now.

Some independent-minded Democrats in Congress weren't happy about his participation in administration program-making. It would give some appearance of Democratic responsibility for whatever the administration proposed.

Two Think Alike

Stevenson made it clear when he took the job that, as a patriotic duty he would give the advice he thought best and reserve for himself the right to criticize what he didn't agree with.

All this would seem to indicate what seemed pretty clear in the 1956 campaign: that Eisenhower and Stevenson think pretty much the same on basic programs and that their differences are a matter of degree.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

THE NAPOLEON OF THE NILE

In many ways, the Middle East is the most important real estate in the world. It contains 70 per cent of the known petroleum reserves of the globe. Without oil, the Free World would be a sitting duck for a Communist takeover.

MR. HUTTON

Yet our position in the Middle East is deteriorating. A new American policy there is urgently needed.

We have been all things to all men. Our principles—if we have any except "giveaway"—are sinking in the desert sands.

About a year ago, when Nasser seized the Suez Canal and cut off Europe's oil supplies, we put ourselves in the strange position of voting with Russia against England and France.

Nasser can close the Canal again whenever he thinks highway robbery will be profitable. No compensation has been paid to the owners of the Canal or other property seized in Cairo. To top off our policy of being kind to robbers, we have recently presented Nasser with 3 million $'s worth of railway equipment.

In 1951, when weepy Mossadegh took over the petroleum resources of Iran, President Truman said in substance, that he had no objection.

Is it any wonder that Nasser says his program was a great success? He now joins with Syria to tweak the beard of Uncle Sam, who saved him about a year ago.

The Napoleon of the Nile surely thrives on kind treatment!

Institution Farm Output Higher in '57

ALBANY (AP) — Food worth $3,587,541 was produced at farms operated by New York State Institutions during the year ended Nov. 1, the Agriculture Department reports.

Robert J. Race, director of the bureau of institution farms announced the figures last night at the annual dinner of farm managers.

The food produced on the state's 42 institution farms was worth about $19,000 more than last year's yield, he said.

Production was: Vegetables 8,917 tons, meat 1,459 tons, eggs 632,244 dozens; milk 12,404,997 quarts, potatoes 60,128 bushels.

These first-place managers in each category were announced:

Central Islip State Hospital, William Meech, 2,268,253 pounds of vegetables; Kings Park State Hospital, E. A. Onsrud, 208,064 pounds of meat; Letchworth Village of Thiells, D. Burt Smith, 67,707 dozen eggs; Craig Colony at Sonyea, Harvey Hughes, 10,657 bushels of Potatoes; Wassaic State School, Owen Owens, 2,039,797 pounds of milk.

SHOP AND MAIL EARLY

By following such simple suggestions as mailing early, wrapping carefully, plainly printing the addresses and return addresses and using zone numbers, local residents will be assured of the safe and timely arrival of their Christmas mail.

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk has cautioned that putting off mailing Christmas cards and parcels until the last moment results in an extremely heavy burden being placed on postal employes and postal facilities of the local post office and slows up the processing of mail.

Every facility of the local post office will be pressed into maximum service again this year so that the post office will be cleared of all Christmas mail that has been deposited in time for delivery by Christmas.

In an appeal to all citizens of the community, Postmaster Newkirk praised the fine cooperation that has been extended in past years and he asked that this same cooperation again be extended this year.

A good plan to follow is to start purchasing your gifts and cards this weekend. Then next week in your leisure time you can properly wrap and address the gift parcels and mail them.

To be happy and early in December is better than being sad and late in January.

A parakeet recently flew into a fourth grade classroom in Buffalo. If any of the youngsters grow up to be writers there may some day be a nursery rhyme about tht parakeet that will rival Mary's little lamb.

THE ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

A recent survey of opinion among American industrialists shows that the majority look forward to business levels in 1958 as good or better than 1957.

What this means is that they do not expect the current economic decline to get measurably worse. This mood of confidence can be of great benefit in preventing that very eventuality.

The fact of the decline is, of course, well established by now. When the Federal Reserve Board eased the interest rate members of the Federal Reserve System must pay in borrowing funds, it gave a clear signal. Easier money for banks should mean easier money on down the line.

From other federal agencies have come other unmistakable signs. The current inflationary spiral is said to be at an end. Official forecasts of unemployment are up for the months immediately ahead. Many business markers have turned downward.

Yet despite it all the men who make the nation's goods refuse to be pessimistic about the future. They see the economy holding and even thrusting upward a little.

Their confidence can have many sources.

For one thing, within the past eight years they have been through two recessions. Both proved to be mild, and we went on to new highs.

For another, now thoroughly understood, government in this era will not sit idly by and watch a nation fall into severe depression. Many "floors" already have been put under the economy, and trouble would see the speedy placing of more and greater props.

Nor can businessmen forget for long the distant prospect of a steady expansion in consequence of our soaring population—which may surpass 220 millions by 1957.

Lastly, Russia's gains in missiles and satellites have stirred the nation into intensified defense efforts which most industrialists imagine will provide a sharp new stimulus to manufacturing next year and beyond.

It is good to find a healthy mood prevailing among the leaders of the business community. We can ill afford to have them in the psychological dumps at a time when the county requires that we approach with confidence and full spirit the tasks of assuring our well being and safety.

New reports tell of "weird things" floating through the air in various sections of the country. In some instances the mystery is solved by whiffs of the tale bearers' breath.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

CARUSO

My friend, Francis Robinson, who helps to run the Metropolitan Opera House, has produced a book on Enrico Caruso, the greatest tenor that ever lived so far as we know. Of course, we do not know much about tenors who sing in bathrooms or in the barber shops. The record only gives us those whose names are printed on programs and of those Caruso has know no peer.

And that is the most astonishing fact about human beings. Why, for instance, was there only one Paganini, only one Kreisler, only one Liszt, only one Chaliapin, and so it goes in all fields. I can recall Richard Mansfield and Sothern and Marlowe in Shakespeare were outstanding, just as no whispering new school actress can equal Alla Nazimova in Ibsen.

In a word, genius appears here and there, in the most unexplainable places, without regard to country or even the character of the genius. Who could have believed that such a money-grabbing father as Mozart's could have produced the greatest composer of all time?

So we return to Enrico Caruso, a very simple Italian, born in Naples. He was the 18th of 21 children. His father was not a musician. Caruso's father was a mechanic working in a cottonseed oil and cream of tartar factory.

Does it really make much difference? Despite the geneticists who are able to do so much with horses and bulls, nobody has yet discovered how to make a father's son exactly like the father, as good or as bad. There are those who believe that blood will tell. But what will it tell?

Since childhood, Caruso sang. He sang Masses in the church choir. He sang on the streets. He sang because he was endowed by the mystical powers that create an extraordinary beauty among homely parents or, as in the instance of Benjamin Franklin, produced a natural philosopher and diplomat where little more than an artisan was to have been expected.

Francis Robinson tells:

"On the Feast of Corpus Christi, 1888, Anna Caruso lay seriously ill. Enrico did not want to sing but his mother insisted. With a heavy heart he trudged to the Church of San Severino. It was one of only two performances in his life he was unable to finish. In the middle of the service the weeping neighbors came to tell him his mother was gone.

"'Out of regard for her,' he said, 'I had resigned myself to pursuing my work as a mechanic's apprentice. After her death, though my heart was filled with sadness over my irreparable loss, I could see no reason for continuing this sacrifice. I left the office never to return and decided to dedicate all to music.'"

Otherwise, Enrico Caruso might have ended up as a manufacturer of soda fountain equipment, singing only to his wife and children on a Sunday after a heavy dinner of pasta. Instead, as though a Jacob's ladder had been placed upon the earth for Caruso to climb, step by step, a guardian angel in the form of a music teacher, a major in the army, a baron, was ready to assist the young man to rise. There are always men to help genius.

I have one advantage over Francis Robinson who spends every day in the Met; I heard Caruso. I heard Caruso and Farrar and that nobody can ever forget. It lives in the memory like a monumental experience, like the first view of Peking or of the Great Wall of China, or the night of the Russian Revolution, or the Grand Canyon.

In those days, the Metropolitan was a temple to which only those who loved music went. True, on opening night, society turned out, but it was a well-behaved, well-mannered society, nothing like during the past few years when anyone with taste shunned a first night as he would any other horror.

It was customary to have "Aida" on the opening night and Caruso usually sang. There were many ways to hear opera. One was to sell librettos; another was to carry a spear. There were many ways to live without money in those days if only one was willing to work. And so I heard Caruso and often saw him and once heard him sing impromptu in the bar of the Knickerbocker Hotel for some charity he chose at the moment to favor.

Various Irritations Can Cause Postnasal Drip

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Mrs. R. and others have asked about an ailment which is particularly common in the colder months of the year and is characterized by hawking, spitting and excessive mucus in the nose.

This symptom was formerly called catarrh, defluxation or rheum. Now it is most commonly called "postnasal drip."

It is a disagreeable symptom produced by the formation of mucus in the nose which drips down into the back of the throat and upper breathing tubes. This results in irritation requiring constant clearing of the throat with bringing up of small quantities of mucus.

It is not a true disease since it can be produced by any one of several causes. Among those which have been mentioned are central heating, smoking, alcohol, changes in external temperature, dust, irritating fumes, germs, structural abnormalities, foreign bodies and emotional disturbances.

THE QUESTION is often asked whether swallowing this nasal secretion will harm the stomach. Judging from what is known of the nature of the mucus and the ability of the stomach to overcome what is in it, it is believed that only a stomach which is already abnormal would be likely to suffer from swallowing such mucus.

Likewise, the danger from postnasal drainage to the lower part of the respiratory tract, which includes the bronchi and lungs, is ordinarily slight.

Among the causes for postnasal drip, central heating is important. Heated rooms are often so lacking in moisture that there is abnormal evaporation of water from the nasal passages. This thickens the mucus and makes the normal processes of its removal less satisfactory.

IN FALL, WINTER and spring, there are abrupt and extreme changes in temperature which may occur several times a day as a person walks out of doors and back into a centrally heated home or office. These changes cause contraction and enlargement of the blood vessels in the nose. They are in turn accompanied by changes in the amount and nature of the nasal secretions, thus allowing their accumulation in the throat.

The irritating effects of tobacco smoking, dusts, fumes and germs are obvious.

A postnasal drip is probably the result of conditions of modern living, some of which cannot be easily changed. It is a response to irritation which can be overcome only by removing the cause, or causes.

Though it is somewhat uncomfortable and annoying, it should not cause worry as the consequences are rarely dangerous. If you are going to have a general anesthetic, however, you should tell the doctor about it.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Dr. Edward Teller, father of the H-bomb, revived one of the oldest unanswered questions in Washington when he told Sen. Lyndon Johnson's Preparedness subcommittee:

"We should do more about shelters."

Ever since Federal Civil Defense Administration was set up in 1950, its successive heads have beat their brains out trying to get a bomb shelter program started.

Nobody has been able to make the necessary decision to go ahead. The White House, Congress and the general public have all shown the shelter program nothing but indifference.

But Dr. Teller has now given it new emphasis. He says building missiles for active defense is not the whole answer to the new Russian threat, Passive defense—the building of shelters—is also important.

The University of California radiation laboratory scientist did not advocate a crash shelter building program. He advocated the development of shelters at a reasonable rate.

He did not propose that all shelters be built to give protection against blast. The principal protection to be afforded is against radioactive fall-out.

DR. TELLER favored the building of dual-purpose shelters in new structures. By this means a protective program can be built up gradually.

Dual-purpose shelters offer considerable promise. This would mean putting added structural strength, at little additional cost, in new school gymnasiums, shopping centers and underground parking centers to accommodate many people.

But it is the cost of a shelter program that is its principle obstacle. Complete protection might cost more than missiles for retaliation against a Russian H-bomb attack.

An Atomic Energy subcommittee under Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) has held some hearings on a shelter program. One bill now pending in Congress would provide federal assistance for state and local shelter construction. Initial cost was put at eight billion dollars—then raised to 14 billion dollars.

This bill would also make the Federal Civil Defense Administrator—now ex-Gov. Leo Arthur Hoeg (R-Ia.)—a cabinet officer. This would give all civil defense programs higher priority and possibly get them rolling.

FORMER FCDA Administrator Val Petersoni told a House Appropriations subcommittee last February that a beginning shelter program would cost around 32 billion dollars.

Details of this program were never made public. It was prepared for President Eisenhower. Until the White House releases it, nobody will talk. It is now being re-evaluated.

FCDA recently issued a new set of plans for a shelter that could be built in a private home. This was distributed to state civil defense administrators meeting in Washington. No copies have yet been printed for general distribution.

The estimated cost for this new shelter is $3,300. For 10 million units in residential areas, 33 billion dollars.

For more congested, metropolitan areas, a test survey was made in St. Louis, Mo., last year. Its purpose was to develop a plan that would provide shelters which could be reached by a population of 1,750,000 within 10 minutes.

PROTECTION TO BE provided was to resist blast pressure up to 30 pounds per square inch. Construction that would resist 100 pounds per square inch pressure would be so expensive as to be prohibitive and would provide little added protection.

Hydrogen bombs build up terrific pressures at center of impact. No structure could be built that would guarantee protection against blast, fireball and crater caveins.

The St. Louis survey indicated that 40 per cent of the population might be saved with shelters. Without shelters, casualties might be as high as 95 per cent.

One curious aspect of the shelter program is that the Russians seem to have made no protection for their people. The Soviet government has relied more on dispersion of industrial centers in their great land area.

The United States, with its many concentrated centers of population in industrial areas, provides much better targets for missiles. They therefore need greater shelter protection.

NATO Talk in U. S. Urged To Insure Bipartisan Aid

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—Why shouldn't the NATO meeting be held in Washington instead of in Paris?

This question is raised now not because President Eisenhower may not be able to go abroad at this time, but primarily because there is need for bipartisan unity in the United States. It will not be attained just by adding a prominent Democrat to the American delegation. It could be achieved by holding the meeting in Washington, where Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson—the two Democratic leaders in Congress — together with the chairmen and ranking members of the two foreign affairs committees, could sit in on important conferences with representatives of the other NATO governments. President Eisenhower could then give more time to the business of NATO, whereas in Paris his time would be limited.

If the arrangements for the Paris meeting have gone so far that they cannot be altered in time for a December session, then the meeting could be postponed until January. It is far more important for the cause of NATO to get Congressional cooperation in the United States than to hold a meeting now abroad that can be barren of results.

What Europeans do not realize is that, under the American system of government, the executive branch, which handles foreign affairs, is separate from the Congress, which votes the money and has a good deal to say about the implementation of foreign policy.

Today the Republican party controls the executive branch, while the Democratic party controls both houses of the legislative branch. This is perplexing to a European, who is accustomed to single control of both legislative and executive functions by the party with a majority in parliament.

This same question baffled the Europeans in 1918, when President Wilson went to Paris leaving behind a Republican Congress whose leaders were miffed because he took some inactive Republicans from outside Congress with him on the delegation. The failure of the Republicans in 1919 to support American entry into the League of Nations—a blunder that changed the course of history and helped to bring on World War II—has been attributed to the friction then between the Republicans in Congress and the Democratic executive.

Under Pressure

In the last few days this country has witnessed the sorry spectacle of a former Democratic party candidate for the Presidency refusing to go along on the American delegation to the NATO meeting at Paris. He doubtless was under pressure from some of the extreme partisans who fear that, if Mr. Stevenson becomes too intimately identified with what is done at the NATO meeting, it will deprive his party of a chance to play politics with the Administration's policies in world affairs.

But, realistically does Mr. Stevenson represent the Democratic party today? Can he speak for it? Isn't Speaker Rayburn or Sen. Lyndon Johnson in a better position to speak for the Democratic party, especially in Congress, where the decisions taken at a NATO conference must be ratified or modified or rejected so far as American participation is concerned?

The NATO meeting is of transcendent importance. For the last two years it has been apparent that something must be done to bolster the NATO alliance. It needs military unity, and it needs economic and political unity.

Divided Government

There is at the moment an erroneous impression in this country and abroad that, if President Eisenhower goes to Paris, he can accomplish something of a miracle in strengthening NATO. He could do no more at Paris than he could do in Washington, and perhaps less. That's because the festering sore in America's world position is the divided government here at home.

The simplest way to achieve American unity is to hold the NATO conference in Washington, where the leaders of both parties in Congress can sit in and learn first-hand what must be done to produce a solid front against the Soviets. The after-effects on the "neutralist" and "uncommitted" countries would be such as to strengthen the whole cause of the free world against the Communists.

With America's far-reaching facilities for television and radio broadcasts and with the publicity that would be given in the American newspapers and magazines, a meeting of NATO in Washington would be a ten-strike for the Europeans. They would be able to talk directly to the American people and insure a united public opinion. This indeed can influence political parties here far more than fragmentary dispatches from a meeting place 3,000 miles away from our shores.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Where to get the money to pay for a stepped-up defense program is the question splitting public opinion today.

The seriousness of the missile race isn't questioned, nor is the need for more defense spending.

The debate is over raising the money.

One group favors hiking the federal debt limit above the present 275 billion dollars and borrowing more money, despite the admittedly inflationary results.

The other, particularly strong in financial circles, favors paying for more defense measures by economizing on other governmental programs.

Will Raise Howls

Cutting back on these domestic spending programs will raise howls from those who believe that welfare spending isn't as big as it should be, anyway.

The economy group in rebuttal will point to what inflation already has done to the spending power of your dollar.

The inflationary threat arises because the administration would like to spend about two billion dollars more on defense and one half billion more on foreign aid.

The U. S. Treasury is already bumping the federal debt ceiling. Further, it faces the gloomy prospect that if a business recession deepens, both corporate and individual incomes will be smaller and income tax collections will shrink.

The Treasury, asked to spend more and facing a revenue drop, will have to turn to deficit financing—that is, operate in the red and pay its bills by borrowing, mainly from the commercial banks. This is where classic inflation starts.

Warns on Inflation

The Guaranty Trust of New York in its December survey of business finds "there is too much reason to fear that the way which the nation will actually take will be the inflationary way."

But it warns that "lasting military strength cannot be built upon a shaky economic foundation" and holds that "inflation can defeat the cause of freedom as decisively as can enemy missiles."

The bank adds: "The job to be done can be done with a moderate amount of economic belt tightening. Is this too high a price to pay for freedom? If it is—if the Sputniks frighten or tempt the free world into undermining its economic strength anew by relaxing the struggle against currency debasement—they will indeed have won a major victory for Soviet imperialism."

Economists of the First National City Bank of New York join in the chorus of warning, thus: "After all, every family expects to tighten its belt when personal crisis strikes." They fear that if Congress doesn't say "No" to an over-all boost in spending and "we give way to more inflation, the (defense) money will not buy what it is supposed to buy and we will be hiding weakness behind big dollar signs."

Every Day Terms

The bank economists then get to the heart of the matter in every day terms. A return to deficit financing could "set the stage for another circle of overgenerous wage and price advances next spring."

That is, the cost of living will rise again for individuals and so will the cost of doing business for industry and trade. The poor old dollar will have another sinking spell.

The President and many in Congress hope that the defense spending hike can be met without going into the red. But the President has said that the American people "will not sacrifice security to worship a balanced budget."

$123 Halloween Fund Collection for UNICEF

Children of this community at Halloween time accepted donations for UNICEF and a report from Richard B. Talleur, chairman of the drive, announced this week that a total of $123.61 was raised. Donations received at Halloween were $103.31. The Rosendale Christian Endeavor Society contributed $10.30, and the Tillson Reformed Church Sunday school donated $10. The chairman indicated that when all donations had been received, and expenses paid, that about $100 would be sent to the United Nations committee to help needy children in many of the more unfortunate countries of the world.

Exhibitors Get $8,377.15 From Ulster Co. Fair

Checks amounting to $8,377.15 have been mailed to 431 persons who exhibited at the 1957 Ulster County Fair held here in Forsyth Park in August.

In making this announcement today, Pratt Boice, treasurer of the Ulster County Agricultural Society, sponsors of the fair, requested that all recipients of the checks cash or deposit them promptly. "It is necessary for us to forward the canceled checks to Albany to receive state reimbursement for the cash premiums paid," Boice stated.

The Ulster County Fair is held annually in Forsyth Park and no admission is charged. The City of Kingston makes the park available for this purpose. The Fair attracts crowds of between 8,000 and 10,000 persons. In commenting on the fair today, Albert Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and secretary of the Ulster County Agricultural Society, said that it not only pays substantial cash premiums to Ulster County residents but is an important rural-urban relations project supported by the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

"The county fair," Kurdt said, "is truly a cooperative project with many organizations and agencies, including the City of Kingston, making substantial gratis contributions of manpower and equipment, making it possible to conduct the fair on a free basis."

Ship-to-Shore

The first ship-to-shore radio telephone conversation took place in 1917 between the captain of the battleship New Hampshire, off Hampton Roads, Va., and the Secretary of the Navy in Washington.

Israelis Begin Supply Convoys; Halted 14 Days

JERUSALEM (AP)—The first Israeli convoy to Mt. Scopus in two weeks crossed Jordanian territory today carrying 14 barrels of gasoline and other supplies.

Jordan stopped convoys to the demilitarized Israeli enclave last month with a claim that gasoline constituted military cargo. The Israelis said it was necessary fuel. The supply run started again today under an agreement worked out by U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Supplies Checked

U. N. observers in the presence of Jordanian officers checked the food, gasoline and other supplies in the trucks before they set out. The convoy carried 45 policemen plus a number of civilian caretakers.

At a Jordanian demand, a number of meat and biscuit tins were opened for inspection purposes. Police kitbags were also inspected.

In the usual pattern for convoys over the last eight years, a tommygun-armed Jordanian rode with each armored bus in the procession. One U. N. observer sat next to each Israeli truck driver. Leading the way were several U. N. jeeps and an Arab legion jeep.

A Jordanian army officer said 15 persons, including four women, were inside an armored car. They were going as "visitors for the day," the officer said.

Dag to Damascus

Hammarskjold flew on to Damascus for a 24-hour visit. He will talk with Syrian officials about Syrian-Israeli border tension before passing through Beirut Friday on his way back to U. N. headquarters in New York.

The secretary general flew to the Middle East last weekend after Jordan refused to pass a gasoline shipment to Israelis stationed on Mt. Scopus and after the Amman government accused the acting chief of the U. N. truce observers, U. S. Marine Col. Byron Leary, of bias in the disputes.

Before leaving New York Hammarskjold said he had full confidence in Leary. This statement "still stands," newsmen were told by George Ivan Brown, the secretary general's press representative. "I have nothing to add on this," Brown said.

Maybe He's Inferior

PITTSBURGH (AP)—If your boss starts throwing his weight around, he can't help it—he has an inferiority complex.

Dr. J. L. Rosenstein, an industrial psychologist, made the statement at a human relations seminar here yesterday. He added:

"People who have a strong sense of inferiority are always looking for someone to criticize. The supervisor, manager, or personnel director who bosses people around is really covering up his own inadequacies."

Tioga Grand Jury

Leader Joseph F. Carlino said they would not approve a similar appropriation for Reuter. Carlino said the commissioner was a "fact finder" and that a prosecutor was needed for the job.

Takes Issue With GOP

Reuter himself jumped in the political fray.

In a statement issued in Albany, he took issue with Republicans who criticized his investigation. In fact, he said, he was surprised in view of the fact that the Republicans cut the appropriations for his office "to the bone."

The GOP-controlled Legislature this year cut $108,254 off the $365,434 that Harriman had asked for the commissioner's work.

A State Liquor Authority spokesman said last night four other men who attended the Apalachin meeting and who held alcoholic beverage licenses were under investigation.

They were identified as Joseph Magliocco, president of the Sunland Beverage Corp. in Brooklyn; Sam and Patsy Monacchino, operators of the Super Beverage Co. in Auburn; and Ignazio Cannone, operator of Nat's Place, Endicott, and Endwell Plaza in Endwell.

Tornabe Attended

The spokesman said they were also investigating Salvatore Tornabe, who holds a solicitor's permit and who works for Magliocco. Tornabe also was present at the Apalachin meeting.

All five have been questioned in the SLA's investigation, which is aimed at possible revocation proceedings, the spokesman said.

Two other Apalachin conferees holding liquor licenses have not yet been questioned. They are John C. Montana, president and director of the Frontier Liquor Corp., Buffalo wholesalers, and Roy Carlisi, owner of the Club 97 in Buffalo, the spokesman said.

The authority can initiate at any time revocation proceedings based on the license holder's conduct or withholding of information on his application.

Burglars Return To Auto Agency, Try Other Places

A second theft in slightly more than a month at the Jerry Martin Pontiac Inc., 708 Broadway was reported to the police today and they were asked to investigate two other apparent attempts at burglary, and a purse theft.

Between $10 and $12 was taken from the cash register in the Pontiac building and conditions in the stock room and office indicated that both had been ransacked. Extent of the stock loss will not be determined until completion of an inventory.

Ransack Cabinets

Entrance was gained through the stock room door after a glass was broken. Desks and filing cabinets were ransacked. Police were notified at 8 a. m., today.

In the other theft $295 was reported stolen and a shotgun, rifle and camera owned by Robert K. Townsend were reported taken from another section of the building.

A report by Officer Gerald Every at 5:14 a. m., today indicated that he might have been close to catching someone in an apparent theft attempt at the Crown Blouse Co., Inc., 75 Crown Street. Officer Every said he had heard someone take off in a car. A glass was reported broken and a door was open, but nothing was reported missing.

Tamper With Safe

Reports yesterday noted that a new safe had been tampered with in the office of the Motor Vehicle Bureau, Main Street in an apparent futile attempt at burglary, and an apparent attempt had been made to enter the Greenkill Restaurant, Greenkill Avenue.

Entrance to the Motor Vehicle bureau was gained through a back window. At the Greenkill Restaurant a window was reported broken but the building was not entered.

Mrs. Eleanor Foster, of 21 Main Street, a teacher at the Myron J. Michael School, reported the theft of a purse from a school room yesterday afternoon. It contained $20, gift certificates, glasses and other personal items.

Add Texture to Soup

Add crisp crouton, sliced hard-cooked eggs, diced meat, cucumber or olives to prepared soups to give them new color and texture.

Would Cut Arms

tional two billion dollars in missile and other defense outlays forecast by administration leaders, Russell said some less essential military spending is going to have to be cut.

"I think that about 600 million dollars can be saved by eliminating some of the duplication and waste in the military program," he said. "I certainly am opposed to deficit spending and to increasing taxes.

Would Rather Up Taxes

"But if it came to a showdown between deficit spending and more taxes, I would rather see taxes raised."

Sen. Carroll (D-Colo) said the Eisenhower administration is going to run into opposition in Congress if it attempts to cut out essential civilian services. Like Russell, he said he feels the military "can do a little belt-tightening of its own in areas of overlapping, duplication and waste."

Unlike Russell, Carroll said he would rather see some deficit spending than to have economies in the domestic program that might accelerate the current business downturn.

Must Keep Jobs Going

"If we have to maintain full employment at the cost of a little deficit spending, we've got to do it," he said.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, called for more economies in both military and civilian spending.

In a speech prepared for the National Assn. of Manufacturers in New York, Byrd cautioned that the nation has "two fronts to maintain, one military and the other economic." And he added:

"If the missile crisis forces us to spend more in one direction, we must find ways to spend less in other directions."

Awaiting Reports

There was clear evidence administration leaders were awaiting reports on year-end revenue trends before making any final decisions on the over-all budget that Eisenhower will submit to Congress in January.

Knowland said in response to questions he had not heard any gloomy business forecasts in the White House conference, over which Eisenhower presided for a total of four hours.

"I think all are agreed that the long-term outlook for the nation is good," he said. "There certainly was in these conferences no attempt to sell the long-term prospects of the country short."

Knowland said there were no decisions on where spending might be cut to help provide for an increase in defense outlays.

From other conferees, it was learned there was discussion of the possibility of cutting down on new public works projects, slowing some others and of trimming down a 50 million dollar a year fund for pollution projects.

Says U. S. Must

thought we were supreme."

He said the world "is stepping into the age of space."

Proposes Program

To prepare for it, he proposed this program:

"First, we must step up the development of the weapons which will assure our survival.

"Second, we must revise our methods of teaching and our curricula so that science and technology are no longer ignored.

"Third, we must mobilize our population to face the challenge—tapping the now unused reservoirs of talent and ability among people who are retired.

Need Space Academy

"Fourth, we must step up our research into the physical and biological problems of outer space—perhaps through a space academy.

"Fifth, we must lodge—either in a new or an existing agency—specific responsibility for the physical, economic and legal problems of exploring outer space."

Youth Lost 36 Hours Treated for Frostbite

SCHROON LAKE (AP) — Game wardens took an 18-year-old high school senior home yesterday after he emerged from the Adirondacks with his clothes frozen. He had been lost 36 hours.

Williams Powers of Port Henry said he twice fell into a stream Tuesday night. The temperature was well-below freezing.

Powers said he walked continually from the time he lost his bearings while deer hunting. He was unable to get a fire started and feared he would freeze if he stopped to rest.

He was taken home to be treated for possible frostbite.

The youth became lost in the Big Pond sector near Hoffman Mountain, 25 miles west of Schroon Lake.

Generator in Service

BUFFALO (AP)—The largest electric power generator in the state is now in service at the Huntley station of the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp.

The new, 200,000-kilowatt steam generator was cut into the system yesterday bringing the plant capacity to 970,000 kilowatts.

Another generator of equal power is expected to be in operation late next year at the plant, already one of the nation's largest steam generating stations.

Former Kingston Man on Newburgh Planning Board

A former Kingston resident recently was appointed a member of the Newburgh planning Board by City Manager William H. Kennedy.

He is Jack Present, of 15 Jamison Place, Newburgh, son of Samuel Present, of 14 Abeel Street, this city, who operates a dry goods store at 33-35 Broadway.

Active in Republican circles in Newburgh, Present's appointment brings the planning group's full membership to seven, it was reported. He fills the vacancy created by Raymond P. Rogers who resigned in June, 1956.

Present's term expires April 12, 1962.

An Air Force veteran of World War 2, Present has resided in Newburgh since 1945 and is employed as a salesman for RTA Distributors, Inc. He formerly was employed by Roskin Brothers, Inc., of Middletown, for 11 years.

Present, a ward committeemen in Newburgh, serves as secretary of the Newburgh Republican Committee and first president of the Republican Workshop. He served as Republican registration chairman during the last city election in Newburgh and also as chairman of the Orange County Republican beauty contest held this year as part of the Republican Fall Festival.

Present is president of the Mr. and Mrs. Club of Congregation Aguda Achim, that city, and a member of Judson P. Galloway Post, American Legion.

Along Capitol Corridors

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY (AP)—What would happen if Gov. Harriman became disabled. Who would decide whether he couldn't handle the job. And how?

These questions might not seem timely, since Harriman appears to be in fine physical condition and going strong.

But so did President Eisenhower before illness struck two years ago. The same questions then furrowed the brows of top Washington officials, only to be shelved when the President recovered.

No Clear Answer

Last week, when Eisenhower suffered a mild stroke, the men around the President grimly pondered these questions again. There seems to be no clear answers. The federal constitution is vague on the subject.

The state constitution is just as vague on disability of the governor. No clarifying measures have been enacted and there seems to be no inclination in state government to deal with the potential problem. A few officials approached on the subject showed slight interest.

The state constitution, like the federal constitution, leaves no doubt on the line of succession. After the governor comes the lieutenant governor, then the temporary president (who is also majority leader) of the Senate, finally the speaker of the Assembly. That's as far as it goes.

On the subject of disability, it says:

"In case of (the governor's). . . inability to discharge the powers and duties of the office (they). . . shall devolve upon the lieutenant governor for the residue of the term or until the disability shall cease."

The language is close to that in the federal constitution, dealing with the President and vice president. What it doesn't say causes the concern.

Who Shall Decide

The common question is: Who shall decide when a president—a governor—is disabled.

Does the governor himself? Suppose he's too ill to make any decisions, or suppose he insists he's able, when others believe he is not? Who decides when a disability starts or ends?

In Washington, there has been talk of establishing a committee of physicians to examine an ailing president and report, perhaps, to the cabinet, which would make the final decision. But there has been no action, despite Eisenhower's request for some sort of legislation.

In Albany, the potential problem has been either overlooked or ignored.

Putting the situation in the language of an old proverb:

While the horse shows no signs of running away, the barn door nevertheless hangs wide open.

The name "Kansas" is taken from the name of a tribe of Sioux Indians, who called themselves "People of the South Wind."

Catskill Airman Takes Own Life

An 18-year-old Catskill airman, Richard R. McDermott, committed suicide with a pistol yesterday at his home, Greene County Coroner Dr. Curtis Lacy reported. Home on a 14-day leave from Manhattan Beach, L. I., before returning for processing before being sent overseas, he left home Monday evening and returned home Wednesday. He told his parents he had "blacked out" and awoke to find himself on a train.

A note was left saying "this is the best way out" and his parents reported he had previously expressed fear of being hospitalized as a result of his blackout. A graduate of St. Patrick's Academy at Catskill he joined the Air Force in June. He had gone upstairs to change his clothes when the shot was heard. Coroner Lacy issued a verdict of suicide.

The United States, according to surveys, is short 160,000 classrooms for public school students.

Esopus Man Fined

Richard LeFever of Port Ewen, who was charged with disorderly conduct following an affair at Mirror Lake Lodge which also involved Donald Van Loan, Port Ewen, was fined $10 Wednesday night by Justice of the Peace Allan S. Dargie of New Salem. The arrests were made November 28 by state police, Van Loan was charged with assault, third degree, for allegedly kicking a trooper and was previously fined $10 and given a 10-day suspended jail sentence by Justice Dargie.

Probers Call Survivor of Truck Ambush

WASHINGTON (AP)— A truck driver who survived a shot from ambush was called as a key witness today in a probe of alleged Teamsters Union goon squad violence in six states.

As the special Senate rackets investigating committee opened a new series of hearings, counsel Robert F. Kennedy confirmed that Ray Byrd of Batavia, Ohio, has been subpoenaed. Kennedy said Byrd was called to tell how he was shot in the back in August 1956 near LaFollette, Tenn., when gunmen ambushed his truck. Police never have solved the shooting, Kennedy added.

With the testimony of Byrd and two truck line officials during the afternoon, Kennedy said, the committee will launch an inquiry into activities of what he termed "a good squad drawn from some Teamster locals in Tennessee."

Much of the investigation will deal with violence in that state, Kennedy said, but it also will study reports of violence in Ohio, Kentucky, Georgia, Florida and Mississippi against truckers operating in those states. He declined to say whether the committee would inquire what the Southern Conference of Teamsters, embracing most of those states, has done to investigate the more than 150 acts of violence which he said will be explored in the hearings.

Ward's Tire Prices

Due to an error appearing in the Montgomery Ward automobile advertisement in the Wednesday issue of The Freeman, the prices quoted on tires and batteries were incorrect. The correct price on the Riverside Deluxe Blackwall tire is $14.45, while the battery prices are $10.95 for the 6-volt and $15.45 for the 12-volt Winter King.

Cut the crusts from slices of bread and then spread the slices with butter. Cut into narrow strips and brown in a slow oven. Serve with soups and salads.

Chocolate Candy Treats Are Ideal for Christmas Gifts

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We never get so modern that the urge to make Christmas candy gifts leaves us. But, of course, we do prefer modern shortcuts to old-fashioned candy treats.

Here are two really delightful candies. Only three ingredients needed — semi-sweet chocolate morsels, corn syrup and water. Packaged attractively and festively wrapped, they are an ideal "me to you" gift.

DELICIOUS Christmas candy gift treats like these are simple to make. They require only chocolate, corn syrup and water.

Chocolate Tiny Treats
(Yield: 100 candies)

One 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels, 3 tablesspoons light corn syrup, 1 tablespoon water, 1 cup finely chopped nuts, ½ cup tinted butter frosting.

Put semi-sweet chocolate morsels in top of double boiler with light corn syrup and water. Place over hot, not boiling, water, stirring occasionally, until chocolate is melted. Remove from water; stir in chopped nuts. Drop semi-sweet mixture by scant half-teaspoonfuls on waxed paper lined cookie sheet. Chill until firm. Spread tops of about 2/3 of the miniatures with small amount butter frosting. Dip in shredded coconut or finely chopped nuts, or top with red cinnamon candies or additional semi-sweet morsels.

Nut-Mallow Fudge
(Yield: 1¼ pounds)

Three-quarters pound marshmallows (48), ¼ cup butter, 1 tablespoon water, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup chopped nuts, optional.

Combine marshmallows, butter, water and salt in saucepan. Bring to a boil over moderate heat, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in semi-sweet chocolate morsels and vanilla until smooth. Add nuts, if desired. Turn into 2 greased 5½x4-inch aluminum foil pans. Chill until firm. Decorate with butter frosting as desired.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato or clam juice cocktail, baked glazed ham, scalloped potatoes, buttered broccoli, seeded rolls, butter or margarine, tossed salad, chocolate tiny treats, coffee, tea, milk.

Rotary District GovernorScudder At Kingston Club

Rotary Clubs in 102 countries throughout the free world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace, That was the message of Sam Scudder, governor of District 721 of Rotary International, in addressing the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday.

District Governor Scudder made his first official visit to his home club Wednesday, following a conference with Kingston Rotary officials and committee chairman.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 9,626 Clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Mr. Scudder explanied, Rotary International has spent more than $2,250,000 in recent years through its program of student fellowships, which enables outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as Rotary ambassadors of good will. Since 1947, when this program was established, 957 Rotary Fellowships have been awarded to students in 61 countries for study in 42 countries, with grants averaging $2,500.

This year the District is sending John H. Niedercorn, of Pearl River, N. Y. to study for a year in the Netherlands. It also entertained students from Australia, Japan and Germany, who were studying at Cornell University as Rotary Foundation students, last year.

Community Projects

"In addition to the promotion of international understanding," Mr. Scudder continued, "special emphasis is being placed by Rotary Clubs in this District, which includes 33 Rotary Clubs in eight counties on other worth while community projects including Boy and Girl Scout Troops, Little League Baseball Teams; and a refuge Hungarian family, finding them a house and a job, furnishing the house, and seeing that they are made welcome and acquainted in the community.

"With fellowship and service to others as its keynote, Rotary provides a common ground for 451,550 business and professional executives throughout the free world, regardless of differing or political or religious beliefs," the Rotary District Governor emphasized.

Mr. Scudder urged the local Rotarians to attend the Rotary District Conference to be held at Grossinger's, Liberty, N. Y. in May, 1958 and to make plans for the Rotary Club to be represented at the 49th Annual Convention of Rotary International, which will be held in Dallas, Texas, next June.

As soon as baked custards are ready to come from the oven, they should be removed from their hot water bath and surrounded with cold water.

County Education Program Under Pressure, Allen Says

Tremendous pressures are being brought to bear on the education program of the country, Dr. James E. Allen Jr., New York State Commissioner of Education, told a group of educators last night at the fall meeting of the Mid-Hudson School Study Council, held at the State University Teachers College at New Paltz.

Speaking to members of the Council, which is composed of school board members, administrators and teachers from some 50 school systems in the Mid-Hudson area, Dr. Allen outlined some of the problems which are facing the schools today.

Lists Pressures

Among the pressures on today's education program listed by the commissioner are:

An expanding enrollment, the desire for more education, the extension of fields of knowledge and the necessity for having more knowledge about the shrinking world. Another recent pressure mentioned by Dr. Allen is the need for expanding programs in science and technology. "Of course," he said, "there should be an increase in the science program, but we need to sharpen our efforts in all phases of education."

Stresses Use of Buildings

The commissioner also stressed the need for opportunities for the gifted young people and to provide additional work guidance and counseling. The effective utilization of teachers and other school features was emphasized. "We need to give teachers more help and more time," he said, "and we cannot afford to use our buildings only part of the time."

"Should we not extend the school day?" he asked, and further suggested that perhaps an additional two hours a day needs to be added to help the gifted child and to provide remedial work for the slower pupils. "Should there then be more pay for the teachers?" he questioned. He also suggested some additional school work during the summer.

Says More Aid Needed

The problem of finances was discussed and the commissioner pointed out that an additional $90 million in state aid will be needed to bring the schools up to date and to provide for the immediate increase in enrollment.

Dr. Allen briefly mentioned district reorganization. "The issue is," he pointed out, "what type of reorganization is most effective and economical for better education."

Favors Larger Units

He expressed the opinion that better education does result from reorganization of districts into larger units.

Turning to the problem of higher education in the state, Dr. Allen explained, that the number of high school graduates is increasing tremendously and this is bringing the problem of where they will go to college.

"Unless we have good education at the top," he stressed, "we will not have good education at the beginning."

"We are faced with the improvement and expansion of education all across the board," he concluded, "and it depends on the job each of us do in our respective responsibilities."

Guests at the meeting were four officials of the Ministry of Education in Iran, who have been visiting this week at the State University Teachers College in New Paltz.

East Sites Named To Fire Missiles At Enemy Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four east coast Air Force bases have been selected for construction of the first launching sites for the Bomarc, the nation's newest missile designed to knock down enemy bombers.

The Air Force reportedly feels about 15 such sites would provide antiaircraft coverage for the east and west coasts and the nation's northern boundary. The Bomarc can cover a wide area and travels faster than sound.

300 Mile Range

However, although it is designed to intercept enemy bombers as far away as 300 miles and as high up as nearly 12 miles, the Bomarc would not be effective against ballistic missiles. These long range rockets fly at speeds of up to 15,000 miles an hour and travel as high as 600 or 700 miles.

Plans to build the first Bomarc launching sites were announced last night by the Air Force. It said it had signed contracts totaling 46 million dollars for work at Dow Air Force Base, Maine; McGuire Air Force Base, N. J.; Otis Air Force Base, Mass.; and Suffolk County Air Force Base on Long Island, N. Y.

Area Defense Weapons

The four-ton, 47-foot Bomarc is classed as an area defense weapon. It can carry a warhead of either nuclear or conventional explosives. The Nike is described as a point weapon intended to destroy aircraft up to 75 miles or 100 miles distant.

In another defense development, it was learned that U. S. scientists are working on development of midget H-bombs for battlefield use. The main objective would be to reduce radioactivity fallout.

Union Delegates Gather for Parley

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Delegates gathered today for the opening sessions of the AFL-CIO convention with five unions—including the giant Teamsters Union—facing expulsion moves on corruption charges. One of the unions, the United Textile Workers, was suspended last night.

George Meany, federation president, said in advance of the sessions that the Teamsters could escape expulsion only if James R. Hoffa, the union's president-elect, should quit and let AFL-CIO representatives monitor the union's affairs.

This appeared to be little change from the position the AFL-CIO high command has taken heretofore, but seemed to open the door a bit for Hoffa to step aside from the Teamsters presidency and still retain some office, such as his leadership of the central states Teamsters.

Meany declined to elaborate, and Hoffa was reported to have said in New York that he will consider the possibility of a compromise.

U.N. May Halt Sessions Dec. 14

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The U. N. Assembly is heading into the home stretch of a session marked by further hardening of east-west divisions on world issues and a general standoff on colonial problems.

The Assembly has set Dec. 14 as its target closing date, but delegates predicted an additional week would be needed to tie up loose ends.

Bitter Exchanges

Discussion of the Middle East and the disarmament questions touched off some of the bitterest exchange between the United States and Russia that delegates have heard in years.

The battle of words erupted after Russia accused the United States of trying to goad Turkey into war against Syria. The United States counter-charged that Russia had cooked up a phony war scare to try to frighten Arab nations into the Red fold.

The atmosphere got still more tense when Russia announced she would boycott future disarmament talks unless the 12-nation U. N. Disarmament Commission was enlarged to include more neutrals and Soviet bloc members. Soviet refusal to accept a compromise move to more than double the size of the commission touched off western charges that Russia had no intention of negotiating in the first place.

Diplomats felt Russia may have lost more than she gained with her tough unyielding attitude at this session.

Stirred Resentment

They believed that, by trying to make a major crisis out of the Turkish-Syrian border dispute, the Soviets stirred resentment among some of the nations they most wanted to win over.

Arab delegates were irritated over being forced—through their pledge of Arab unity—to back a cause for which they had little liking.

Most Arab-Asian leaders wanted Syria to accept Saudi Arabian King Saud's mediation offer and felt Russia was to blame for her refusal to do so.

A number of nations usually friendly to the Soviets were also disturbed by Russia's ever-increasing demands in the disarmament discussions here. They concluded that Russia had no intention of taking part in U. N. arms talks at this stage and would have found some pretext for opposing any compromise offer to enlarge the commission.

HarrimanOpposes Milk Price Cut

UTICA (AP) — Gov. Harriman spoke out today against any move to cut the price paid to farmers for their fluid milk.

Since 1948, he said, "the cost of everything has gone up except for prices paid to dairy farmers for their milk" and other products.

Harriman's statement was to be read by his secretary, Jonathan B. Bingham, at a public hearing called by Agriculture Secretary Benson on the Class I milk price paid in the New York-northern New Jersey marketing area.

Wants Price Maintained

Yesterday, Pennsylvania Gov. George M. Leader dispatched a telegram to Benson urging that the price be maintained.

He said Pennsylvania farmers marketing their milk in the area were receiving an annual income increase of over 10 million dollars under an expanded milkshed order that went into effect Aug. 1.

Benson must decide whether the Class I price should be lowered if, after three months of the new order, it is more than $2.50 a hundredweight (46½ quarts) over the average price paid to farmers by midwestern manufacturing plants.

For August, the Class 1A price paid by handlers was $5.58 per hundredweight or $2.52 above the midwest figure. The September level was $5.83, or $2.74 over the midwest price. The October price was $6.07, or $2.94 higher.

The farmers actually received $4.68 a hundredweight in August, $5.03 in September and $5.07 in October.

Seeks More Data

The four big producer cooperatives in the milkshed stand firmly opposed to any cut in the price.

Harriman's statement said: "I have been advised by New York State farm leaders that the allowable differential between these two price levels should be increased, instead of lowering the Class I price.

"I hope you will give careful consideration to their proposal."

In his statement, the governor said the farm price for fluid milk averaged $6.12 a hundredweight for the last three months of 1948. There is little change from this level now, Harriman asserted.

The blend price actually paid to farmers averaged about $5.43 for the last quarter of 1948, as against $5.10 now, he said.

"Since 1948," the governor said, "the cost of everything has gone up, except for prices paid to dairy farmers for their milk and other farm prices."

Cooperatives Against Cut

The Democratic governor said his consumer counsel, Dr. Persia Campbell, had looked into retail milk price increases in the Syracuse area and had suggested that more information should be made public on distribution costs.

Harriman said Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, a Republican, was inquiring into possible monopolistic practices in the Syracuse area "but his investigation has not so far borne fruit."

Lefkowitz had no immediate comment on the governor's statement.

Harriman expressed hope that "nothing done as a result of this hearing would do damage to our dairy farmers by lowering an already declining fluid farm price."

He called the new federal-state order "the first major advance in our milk marketing order system since the 1930's.

"Let us not now cancel out that advance," he asserted.

Christian Science

The source of true wisdom and intelligence will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator."

Scriptural passages will include the following from Psalms (104:24): "O Lord, how manifold are thy works: in wisdom has thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (275:15): "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love. No wisdom is wise but His wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is Life but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows."

The Golden Text is from Hebrews (3:4): "Every house is builded by some man; but he that built all things is God."

Assault Case Is Put Over Till Tomorrow

William Relyea, 34, of 17 Greenkill Avenue, was arrested last night on a third degree assault charge after police were notified of trouble at the above address.

A report at 11:39 p. m., noted that two patrol cars were dispatched to the house because the disturbance "sounded like a riot," but the complaint indicates that nothing more than fists were used and only two were involved. Roland Harvey, whose address was not given was listed as the complainant.

Special City Judge Harry Gold today put the case over until tomorrow.

A charge of driving at an endangering speed against John MacDonald, 18, of 155 Elmendorf Street, was dismissed after trial today. He was arrested on North Front Street Nov. 4.

Attorney John E. Gotelli appeared for the defendant and Sherwood E. Davis represented the district attorney's office.

Witnesses Say Henn on Yacht Before Sinking

Witnesses called on behalf of Mrs. Lillian M. Henn, plaintiff, in a $250,000 negligence action being tried before Justice Harry E. Schirick in Supreme Court, testified that Robert C. Henn was aboard the yacht Blackstone only an instant before the vessel was struck and sunk.

Mrs. Henn brings the action to recover for the death of her husband who was one of a party of eleven IBM engineers aboard the yacht on July 10, 1954, when it was in collision with a Lake Tankers Corporation barge off Esopus Meadows light and sunk in the Hudson. His body was never recovered. The boat was never raised.

Others Escaped

The testimony was to the effect that he had been in the cabin of the Blackstone shortly before the collision and had just gone to the "head" when the vessels came together. All of the other men escaped.

A negligence action was brought by Mrs. Henn against the Lake Tankers Corporation, owners of the oil barge and the tug Eastern Cities which was pushing the barge up stream. The Blackstone was proceeding from Kingston to Highland at the time.

Second Mate Thomas Leo Surprenant, who was at the wheel of the tug, was called by plaintiffs and testified he had seen the Blackstone approach. He described its course and testified he had sounded a warning for passing prior to the collision and that a danger signal had been sounded prior to the actual crash. He testified he had observed the lights of the Blackstone as she approached.

Contends Negligence

Plaintiff contends there was negligence on the part of the barge captain in not having a lookout at the head of the 230 foot barge which was being pushed up river shortly after midnight on July 10, 1954. It is also alleged there were other violations on the part of the operators of the river craft and also that Clyde Roan, owner of the Blackstone, was negligent in the operation of his craft.

Henn left besides his wife, three children. They resided at Poughkeepsie at the time of the accident but are residents of New Rochelle now. Mrs. Henn is now employed by IBM. Roan resided at Highland at the time of the accident and had picked up some members of his party at Highland and others at Poughkeepsie. After a trip up the Rondout Creek the return trip was begun about 11 o'clock under moonlight circumstances but the moon had disappeared before the vessel reached the scene of the accident.

N. LeVan Haver is trial counsel with Rosen and Rosen of Poughkeepsie for plaintiff; Andrew J. Cook Jr., is trial counsel with Burlington, Hupper and Kennedy and Mr. Underwood for Lake Tankers and Michael Nardone of Highland appears for Roan, defendants.

Adlai Bids Dulles Seek Aid on M-E

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson has urged Secretary of State Dulles to enlist the NATO alliance's aid in seeking a general political settlement in the Middle East, the New York Times said today.

A Times dispatch from Washington said the two-time Democratic presidential nominee also suggested serious consideration of past Soviet proposals—previously rejected by the west—that all nations stop shipping arms to the Middle East.

Stevenson has been consulting with Dulles on foreign policy in recent weeks in preparation for the Dec. 16-18 Paris meeting of NATO heads of government. The former Illinois governor said Tuesday his advisory role will end next week.

Mother of 5 Killed

NEWARK VALLEY (AP) — Mrs. Albert Patterson, 45, a mother of five children, was killed today when the automobile she was in collided with a Lehigh Valley freight train at a grade crossing in this Tioga County community.

Putnam Payment Terms Modified

Decision was reserved Wednesday by County Judge Louis G. Bruhn on the allegation that Donald C. Putnam had violated the terms of probation and Judge Bruhn modified the terms of probation in regard to the amounts which Putnam will be required to pay under the terms of probation.

Putnam was formerly engaged in the trailer business on Albany Avenue Extension. A grand larceny charge was brought as a result of trailer transactions. On a plea the court fixed the amount of payments to be made in restitution. It was alleged he had not met these payments and the probation violation charge resulted. A modified schedule of payments were set by the court Wednesday and Putnam released.

Paul Davis, charged with grand larceny, second degree, entered a plea of innocent to being a youthful offender and his case will be disposed of at chambers. Abram F. Molyneaux Jr., appeared for Davis. The indictment was ordered sealed.

Judge Bruhn adjourned court until next Monday at 2 p. m.

Erickson Pleads Fifth in Quiz About Anastasia

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Erickson, the one-time master bookmaker, was questioned by police yesterday about the slaying of racketeer Albert Anastasia.

The pink-cheeked and pudgy Erickson was picked up by detectives as he was strolling in the snow on Park Avenue with an ex-convict friend, George D. Uffner.

The dignified and elegantly dressed pair were taken to a station house on a nearby side street.

2 Out of 100

Erickson was asked about 100 questions. He answered two — he gave his address and said he now is in the real estate business.

Inspector Frederick Lussen, who supervised the questioning, said the 62-year-old Erickson kept saying "I take the Fifth Amendment" as questions were shot at him.

Uffner, a 64-year-old convicted forger, was reported to have answered questions freely. He denied any knowledge of the motive for the murder of Anastasia by two unidentified gunmen as he sat in a hotel barber shop chair last Oct. 25.

Both Erickson and Uffner were let go after a three-hour station house stay.

The fact that Erickson was taken in led to speculation that detectives were working on the gambling theory in seeking to determine the motive of the Anastasia murder. Police denied this officially, explaining that Erickson and Uffner had been described as friends of Anastasia and were questioned for that reason. Uffner was described also as a friend of gambler Frank Costello, who survived an assassination attempt months ago.

Money, No Cards

Erickson and Uffner had money on them when picked up—but no wallets, cards or identification papers.

Lussen said they apparently had learned a lesson from the state police raid on a mobster meeting Nov. 14 at Apalachin, an Upstate New York hamlet. Those present were identified by the troopers, questioned and let go. State police said there was no charge on which they could be held.

100 Persons . . .

the edge. Salvage teams early this morning finally removed the train above.

The two wrecked trains were carrying about 2,000 commuters and Christmas shoppers bound for the suburban town of Hayes and the English channel towns of Folkestone and Deal, 50 miles to the southeast.

Trains were not operating on schedule because of the thickest fog in recent years which enveloped Britain and parts of the continent for two days. The disarranged timetable and lack of visibility were blamed by some for the wreck; but railway officials declined to speculate before a full inquiry.

It was the worst train wreck in Britain since 112 persons died Oct. 8, 1953, in a three-train pileup at the suburban London station of Harrow. Two troop trains collided in Scotland in May, 1915, killing 227 persons. Last night's was the third biggest train wreck in Britain during this century.

The fog hindered removal of the injured to hospitals as ambulances, police cars and fire engines crept to and from the scene. Many of the injured staggered blindly away through the murk to find help at nearby residences.

Unmerged Unions Given More Time

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Unmerged state and local AFL and CIO bodies had a new lease on life today.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council extended today's deadline for merger without setting a date for terminating the grace period.

AFL - CIO President George Meany said further efforts will be made to bring the unmerged groups together and charters will be revoked only when a situation becomes "hopeless."

No Representation

Unmerged bodies have been denied representation at the AFL-CIO convention opening today.

Under the AFL-CIO constitution, state and local bodies had until today to merge or the AFL-CIO could lift their charters and set down merger convention rules.

But Meany said the Executive Council authorized him, yesterday to continue negotiations efforts with the unmerged groups. An executive council resolution, however, reiterated the revocation autority.

Meany said the best way to affect merger is "to approach the problem on a practical basis."

"By giving more time," he said, "we can effect a merger in practically all states."

Thirty-three states and 169 local central bodies have merged thus far. Most of the 15 unmerged states are in industrial areas.

Oklahoma has scheduled a merger convention for the middle of this month, but recent merger efforts in Massachusetts failed.

An executive committee report dated Nov. 15 lists as "most encouraging" the prospects for merger in these nine states: California, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

PSC Authorizes Central to Drop Upstate Trains

ALBANY (AP)—The Public Service Commission today authorized the New York Central to drop two north-country trains on which the six-man crews outnumber the passengers.

The PSC split, 3-2, in permitting the Central to discontinue trains 4 and 5 between Lake Clear Junction and Malone.

The commission said a report filed by Examiner F. Leonard Titus showed that patronage of the two trains "has been less than the number in the train crew."

Commissioner Spencer B. Eddy, Francis T. Mylott and Aaron L. Jacoby voted for discontinuing the trains. Chairman Benjamin F. Feinberg and Commissioner Richard H. Balch backed Titus, whose report recommended that the trains be continued.

Titus took issue with the railroad's estimate that it would save about $122,750 through the curtailed operation.

He said the figure did not reflect the cost of truck service the Central plans to operate between Lake Clear Junction and Malone.

He said the sum also included pay for time the crews spent in freight operations.

At a public hearing, Central officials testified that during the first six months of 1957, train 4 carried a daily average of 4.9 passengers between the two points, and train 5 carried 3.4 passengers. Both trains have a six-man crew.

Chemistry Class Blast Kills Teacher

FLOYDADA, Tex. (AP)—A rocket made from a piece of pipe blew up during a high school chemistry class experiment yesterday, killing the teacher and injuring seven students.

Garland Foster, 40, the teacher and a former employe of the Atomic Energy Commission research center at Los Alamos, N. M., was killed.

Keith Hollums, 18, and Jerry Crawford, 17, were seriously injured. The other five had more minor injuries. Three more were treated for shock and released. Hollums had several teeth knocked out and was hospitalized here. Crawford suffered ear and face injuries and was taken to a Lubbock hospital for surgery.

Upstate School Closing Election Day Is Studied

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York City system of closing public schools on election day and using them as polling places is being looked into by a joint legislative committee for possible adoption upstate.

The word came yesterday from Assemblyman J. Eugene Goddard, Rochester Republican and chairman of the committee to study the election laws and related statutes.

Goddard told a newsman that in Rochester, for instance, schools stay open on election day and obtaining polling places is often a problem.

The committee met here yesterday to prepare proposals for the legislative session in Albany next month. It adjourned to Jan. 14 in Albany.

Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz suggested that the committee recommend that the primaries next year be held in June rather than in September. He said more public interest would be aroused in earlier contests.

Goddard said that setting the primary date is up to the leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties, and the committee recommends the date the leaders agree upon.

There are times in a happy marriage when a husband must manfully assert himself — and say "No!" to his wife. Especially when the wife is:

In front of a mirror and says: "Don't I look a mess?"

Looking at a batch of new snapshots and she says, "Don't I take the most horrible picture?"

At a cocktail party and the wife says, "Look at that tall blond over by the doorway. doesn't she look ravishing?"

After a hard day of housework, and she says, "I think you should have married somebody else."

Sitting at home by the fire toasting marshmallows, and she says, "I have the feeling you'd rather be out bowling with the boys."

She's jammed up the checkbook, ripped a fender off the car, bought a new hat costing $45, and she says between sniffles, "Sometimes I think you ought to divorce poor little me."

Ordinance No. 75169, of the City of Los Angeles, Calif., consists of the following prohibitions:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to have, keep or maintain or cause to permit to be had, kept or maintained or to have in possession or under control within the City of Los Angeles, any elephant, bear, hippopotamus, rhinoceros, lion, tiger, leopard, wolf, or any poisonous reptile of any kind, without first applying to and receiving from the Board of Police Commissioners a permit to do so."

When I found my husband trying to sew on a button, I told him the thimble was on the wrong finger.

"Yes, I know," he answered, "It should be on yours!"

BUGGY DAYS

About this cookout business:

S. S. Biddle.

An immigrant arrived in the United States, secured lodgings, and promptly set out to earn a living. He soon made friends with some of his neighbors who tried to help him get a job. One of them took him down to the owner of a small office building to see if he could get a job as janitor. Unfortunately he could neither read or write. Since the job entailed keeping of records they were forced to reject his application.

He didn't let that get him down, however, and went about looking for another job. He landed in a real esate office and in a few years had worked himself into a sizable fortune.

An occasion arose when he needed a large amount of cash to swing what promised to be a profitable deal. He went to a large bank for a loan. The banker knew him and agreed to lend the money if the man would sit down and make out a note for the amount.

The caller smiled apologetically. He explained that he could neither write nor read and asked the banker to make it out for him. The banker was astonished.

Banker—I am surprised (admiringly). Handicapped as you've been, you have still managed to become a millionaire. I wonder what you would have been in this country by now if only you had been able to read and write?

Man—A janitor.

Comics Burning Selves Out Today, Stan Laurel Opinion

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Stan Laurel, surviving member of the great comedy team of Laurel and Hardy, said today that he will never act again.

The wry-faced comic, now 67, made the comment at his apartment on the beach at Malibu where he talked freely about his own health, his long partnership with "Babe" Hardy, the state of comedy today and other matters. He showed the effects of a stroke that incapacitated him two years ago, but his face occasionally lighted up with his famous, wide-angle grin.

No Stroke Slight

"The doctors called it a slight stroke," he related, "but I don't see how any stroke can be slight. Even if you get back to normal physically you're mentally demoralized. I'm afraid even to go down on the beach, for fear I'll fall.

"I'll never be able to go back to work. I just don't have the strength for it."

Hates Hospital

"I was in the hospital for three weeks, and I hated it," he said. "I was determined to get out of there. So I forced myself to get into the wheel chair and then on crutches and then to walk alone. Now I can get around pretty well."

But he limits his activities to occasional shopping trips to Santa Monica. The rest of the time he spends writing letters to friends and fans ("We still get mail; lately a lot has come from Ghana"), watching TV ("I can only get the three San Diego stations and some nights I get nothing) and seeing a few old friends ("Not many come any more—I guess because I can't give them jobs any more").

Babe's Death a Blow

Babe died last August, his once-rotund body wasted away after a stroke that kept him immobile for almost a year. His passing was a blessing for Babe, Stan said, but it was still a blow to the remaining member of the team.

"It's a strange thing," Stan reflected, "but we really only got to know each other in the last years of his life. When we were making pictures together, we never saw each other off the set. As soon as the picture was finished, he'd go his way and I'd go mine.

"We both had our own circles of friends and our own interests. Babe liked golf and the horses; I liked to fish. He left me to work with the writers; whatever I did was all right with him.

Tours Bind Two

"After we were out of pictures, we did a lot of touring in Europe together, and that's when we got to know each other intimately. You couldn't help it—you had to be together much of the time at theaters, in hotels, at press parties and on trains."

Stan said that he can't stand to watch their old comedies on TV "because they're so cut up." He commented bitterly that TV distributors sliced pieces from the Laurel and Hardy comedies in order to fill time slots.

Too Slow Now

"I wish I could have edited them," he said. "They seem too slow nowadays. That was because we had to leave time between the gags for the audience to laugh. You don't need that spread in TV."

The general state of comedy is poor, he sighed, because comics are burning themselves out from over-exposure. "You can't pour out comedy every week," he said. "You've got to prepare."

Stan said he expects to stay at Malibu until next June, when he plans to move down the coast, possibly to Oceanside. "I've got to be where I can get TV," he said. "These nights of nothing to do can drive you crazy."

Careful Play Pays a Dividend

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When the St. Paul winter carnival tournament of 1958 takes place the end of January and the first of February, one of the leading home town contestants will be Mrs. Norman Grue.

Today's hand is an example of careful play and fine card reading on her part.

North bid too much. The fact that his partner could not overcall with one spade should have warned him against trying for game but North was an optimist and hoped for the best.

The best came off. West opened the ace of hearts and shifted to the deuce of clubs. Dummy's queen lost to East's ace and the jack return forced dummy's king.

There was a simple diamond finesse for the contract but Mrs. Grue knew that it would not work. West had passed his partner's opening bid and shown up with the ace of his suit. It would be too much to expect him to hold the diamond king also.

However, there are such things as singleton kings. Mrs. Grue played dummy's ace of diamonds and lo and behold there was East's king!

Now all that was necessary was the mopping up. The ten of diamonds was carefully dropped. It was necessary to unblock the suit. Trumps were drawn and the five of diamonds led. West played low and dummy's eight was finessed, wherupon all dummy's diamonds were good and Mrs. Grue had managed to wind up with an overtrick.

Walter Genther Gets Eagle Rank At Deaf School

Walter Genther, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Genther, of 110 Clifton Avenue, has compiled a most outstanding record in Boy Scouting.

His latest Scouting accolade was received at a special assembly held recently at the Rochester School for the Deaf when he was presented with the Eagle Badge by his mother.

The district executive of the Rochester council awarded the badge to Mrs. Genther who, in turn, presented the badge to her son. He presented a miniature of the badge to his mother.

Another Honor

Last June, the Ad Altare Dei presentation ceremony was held at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Rochester, during which the Most Rev. Lawrence B. Casey, DD, bishop of Rochester, awarded the Ad Altare Dei Cross to Walter.

Walter attended the national jamboree held at Valley Forge, Pa., last summer as a member of the Troop 12 Drum Corps color guard.

Jamboree Friendships

He was particularly impressed with the friendships he made with Scouts from other sections of the world, including Allen Alowa, 17, a first class Scout from Savoonga, St. Lawrence Island, located in the Bering Sea near Alaska.

The Alaska Scout saw his first tree, cow and horse, ate his first ice cream cone and enjoyed his first automobile ride on his trip to the Jamboree.

Eagle Scout Genther is a member of Troop 29, Rochester, and Troop 12, this city. He has earned 38 Merit Badges, two Explorer ratings, apprentice award, emergency service and Scout life saver.

Holds Other Offices

As a junior leader he holds the offices of quartermaster, librarian, deputy senior crew leader and secretary.

He was awarded further honors last spring when the members of Troop 12 elected him one of two scouts eligible for the Order of the Arrow, National Boy Scout honor camping society.

He became an Ordeal Member of Half Moon Lodge 28 at Camp Tri-Mount, the Rip Van Winkle Boy Scout camp, last summer, and is also a member of Ty-Ohni Lodge 95, Rochester.

110 Clifton Avenue, presents Eagle Scout Badge to her son, Walter, at a special assembly held recently at the Rochester School of the Deaf. Walter, 14, is a member of Troop 29, Rochester, and Troop 12, Kingston. He has received many Scout awards. (Artcraft photo).

Hollywood changed it when he went into his first film, "Personal Maid" opposite Nancy Carroll.

Marine Pleads Innocent

HOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—Marine Pfc. Don B. Stansell of Little Rock, Ark., pleaded innocent today to courtmartial charges he struck three prisoners in the U. S. naval brig at Sasebo, Japan.

He appeared before a special courtmartial board headed by Lt. Col. W. E. Sperling. The court adjourned until tomorrow without reaching a verdict.

Stansell, 21, is the ninth of 16 former Marine prison guards being tried on charges of mistreating prisoners at the Sasebo Navy Base. Four have been acquitted and four convicted.

73,000 in State Are Signed for Insurance Plan

ALBANY (AP)—The state's voluntary health insurance plan went into effect today with 73,000 of the state's 80,000 employes signed up.

New York is contributing $4,200,000 a year to the program, an amount that covers half the cost for employes and about a third of the cost of dependents.

Each member is covered for 120 days of hospital service besides a wide range of medical and surgical benefits. The plan pays 80 per cent of medical bills up to $15,000 after the person enrolled pays the first $50.

Gov. Harriman, announcing the enrollment figures yesterday, said the plan was "the most liberal and comprehensive such program covering government employes."

Racial, Space Problems on Agenda

Baptist Leader Is Likely Choice of Church Council

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

ST. Louis, Mo. (AP) — A widely representative council of American Christians today searched their sacred heritage for guidance on racial relations and the space age.

Proposed resolutions on these and other contemporary issues were up for action at the triennial general assembly of the National Council of Churches.

Northern Leader

The assembly, representing 30 Protestant and orthodox denominations with 37½ million members, also was expected to elect the Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg of St. Louis to serve the next three years as the council's president.

A leader in the American Baptist (northern) convention, Dr. Dahlberg heads a congregation which is affiliated both with the American and Southern Baptist Conventions. Southern Baptists have never joined the council.

A big batch of resolutions was on tap for the assembly's consideration, including pronouncements on such matters as labor union corruption, segregation in churches, and the effects on faith of the furore over Russian Sputniks.

Leaders have urged a strong call to Christians to maintain spiritual steadiness in the face of a clamor they say could plunge the nation into a scientific engineering society, with the accent on Communist-like materialism.

Slow Strides Made

Race relations was the main theme of deliberations yesterday, with the Rev. Dr. Liston Pope, dean of Yale Divinity School, declaring churches are making slow but steady strides toward ending segregation.

He said about 10 per cent of America's congregations now are interracial—five times the percentage of a decade ago. By this figure, about 30,000 of the country's 308,864 churches now are integrated.

"Slowly, how slowly, the mending of the breach proceeds, but it does proceed," Dr. Pope said. "It will not stop until the seamless robe of the church is whole again."

Contrasting Reports

From the south, came contrasting reports.

Francis Pickens Miller, of Charlottesville, Va., a Presbyterian layman and president of the Virginia Council of Churches, said race relations in his home state and other deep-south states are steadily deteriorating.

He said white extremitss are in power in Virginia because they are well heeled and well financed by wealthy northern conservatives.

"All over the deep south lines of communication that had been in the process of building for nearly a century are breaking down," he said. "If this trend continues, it could destroy us—it could tear the people of this nation apart. . ."

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., Negro minister who led the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott, said:

"All too many ministers are still silent while evil rages. The church still is probably the most racially segregated institution in American life.

"Many of our churches. . .are social clubs maintained by the pride and prejudice of man. Congeniality appears to be valued more in most Protestant churches than common fidelity to a Lord who reaches out to all mankind."

DOUBLE TROUBLE — Despite their friendly appearance, Albert Hawkins, left, and his twin brother, Alfred, mean double trouble for criminals in Ottawa County, Kan. Residents of Minneapolis, Kan., they are undersheriff and sheriff, respectively.

New Test Bared To Study Faulty Thyroid Glands

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A new type of "Achilles tendon" test for diagnosing faulty functions of the thyroid gland was described today to the American Medical Assn.

It involves a new electromagnetic technique for measuring the speed of the reflex resulting from tapping the Achilles tendon with a rubber hammer. The tendon is the tough sinew that leads from the back of the leg to the heel.

Entire Body Affected

Dr. Jack A. Adelman, of San Antonio, Tex., who described the device—developed by Maj. John D. Lawson, of Brooke Army Hospital—said it has long been known that dysfunctions of the thyroid gland have an effect on the tendon reflexes of the entire body. For example, when the thyroid is overactive, the reflexes are accelerated; and when it's underactive, they are slowed down.

But, he said, in borderline cases of thyroid dysfunction, the speed changes of reflexes may be so imperceptible that they can be detected only with a delicate instrument. In the past, he said, several such instruments have been developed, but each has certain drawbacks.

Adelman declared that the Achilles tendon reflex is a particularly good bet for testing purposes because, for one thing, the patient looks away from the source of the blow "and is less likely to anticipate it and, hence, cause inaccurate readings."

Response Recorded

In the new instrument, a magnet is taped to the patient's heel. Then, two wire-wrapped iron coils are placed near the magnet. Any movement of the magnet towards or away from the coils sets up an electrical current which is recorded graphically on an electrocardiograph, the machine usually employed to record heart patterns.

When the doctor taps the Achilles tendon, the speed of the reflex response is recorded on the electrocardiograph.

Great Lakes Shipping

Combined shipments of coal, grain and iron ore over the Great Lakes mounted to 18,990,349 net tons this season to November 1, as compared to 21,150,546 net tons moved to the corresponding date in 1956.

PSC Okays N-F Two-Track Plans

ALBANY (AP)—The Public Service Commission today approved plans calling for construction of two, instead of three, tracks in connection with first-phase work on the Niagara Falls grade crossing elimination project.

The PSC said two tracks would save more than one million dollars in the cost of structures to be built.

Maps Approved

The commission also approved maps of lands that the State Department of Public Works will appropriate in connection with the project.

The work approved today calls for relocation of 4½ miles of tracks of the Erie and New York Central Railroads along a new right of way.

The PSC said work to be performed under state contract was estimated at $2,978,600. Preliminary estimates of the cost of work to be done by the railroads is approximately $902,000, the commission said.

As originally ordered in 1952, space was to be provided for three tracks, two owned by the Central and the other by Erie. The new plan calls for each railroad to own and operate single parallel tracks. The railroads agreed on the plan last month.

Structures Rejected

The commission turned down a request from the Town of Wheatfield that two additional structures be built in order to provide crossings for proposed future highways.

Examiner Andrew H. Williamson said that since the proposed highways do not exist, the structures could not be provided under the grade crossings elimination act.

The overall Niagara Falls project will remove through rail operations from the city's downtown section.

Two Jobs for Singers

NEW YORK (AP)—Four young singers are taking time off from regular jobs for a stage debut in "The Music Man," a musical by Meredith Willson. Known as the Buffalo Bills, the group has won prizes in barbershop quartet contests. Hailing from Buffalo, N. Y., they are Al Shea, a member of that city's police force; Vern Reed, engineering salesman; Scotty Ward, salesman for a machinery supply house; and Bill Spangenberg, truck driver.

Quality Control Group Meeting Is Held at Rhinebeck

Thirty-seven members and guests of the Mid-Hudson Section of the American Society For Quality Control were present for the regular monthly meeting this week at the Beekman Arms in Rhinebeck. John Losee, chairman, introduced a new member, Arthur Charter of Boice Mfg Co., and the guests who included Walter Dankau, Robert DePuy, Roland Fraleigh, James McManus, George Moross, Sooren Soovajian, and Roy Wilson.

The main speaker, George R. Scheel, was introduced by James Penrose of IBM-Kingston. His topic was "Quality Control in Hearing Aid Manufacture."

Techniques Discussed

Mr. Scheel, assistant director of quality control, Sonotone Corporation, Elmsford, discussed the techniques of collection and feedback of inspection information. His talk included the types of reports sent to various levels of Management on quality of product shipped to customers.

"To insure customer satisfaction, it is imperative that the Hearing Aid function satisfactorily beyond the one-year guarantee limit," he said. The greatest manufacturing problem concerns the soldering of joints with 59 per instrument. To help achieve control, a visual test is used with a chart posted in the department showing solder joint defects per 1,000 manufactured.

The talk was followed by an interesting question and answer session.

Among those present from the Kingston area were Paul Bassett, Armand Bosse, Richard Hulnick, Vernon May, Harry Mirick, Kenneth Nickel, Gerald Overbaugh, James Penrose, Henry Schuster, and Edwin Secor.

Grass Roots

PORTALES, N. M. (AP)—When a Portales News-Tribune headline blared "Senator Dennis Chavez Inspects Ctiy's Birdbaths," it wasn't a gag. Attention of the senior New Mexico Democratic senator was directed to a recently completed urban route of U. S. Highway 70 through the city which fails to drain properly. The resultant pools' have been labeled "birdbaths."

The most distinguished of the world's motor cars are now available in your community.

Mercedes-Benz cars are automotive masterpieces . . . engineered and crafted for those who can appreciate the most perfect balance between luxury, elegance and performance ever achieved in an automobile.

These cars are not "mass produced" and will never grace more than a limited number of garages. The reason is simply that handcrafting is an essential part of the manufacture of every Mercedes-Benz car.

This has been true for over 50 years and explains, in part, why the three-pointed star of Mercedes-Benz means the finest car in the world. In racing, too, Mercedes-Benz devotion to detail has proved itself through an awesome string of victories. Examine the record and know that the benefits of this experience are passed on to every owner in the form of performance complemented by safety.

On request, your dealer will arrange a demonstration of these internationally-renowned cars and discuss the coast-to-coast service facilities being established by Studebaker-Packard.

Aluminum Head Sees Tremendous Expansion by '75

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—A picture of tremendous expansion in the aluminum industry—doubling present production by 1965 and quadrupling it by 1975—was drawn by one of the industry's leaders today.

Richard S. Reynolds Jr., president of the Reynolds Metals Co., envisioned a "giant forward step" for aluminum despite the present over-supply of the metal.

In a speech before the 46th annual convention of the Investment Bankers Assn. of America, Reynolds said:

"For the first time in the history of nonferrous metals, aluminum, I believe, will develop from a job-order business to a mass production industry."

He said the industry faces "a new era—a revolutionary breakthrough."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By ED CREAGH
(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal to Queen Elizabeth II of England and King Mohammed V of Morocco:

Your majesties have shown an interest, during your visits to these shores, in the American supermarket. Well you might. The supermarket, in its awesome majesty, is an ever-growing symbol of American abundance. It is growing so fast, in fact, that if many more of them are built there won't be any place for the customers to live.

What your majesties may have missed, though, in your marveling at the topless heaps of goodies, detergents, stockings, mops and phonograph records, is perhaps the most remarkable thing of all: The supermarket customer.

Many Varieties

He (and especially she) comes in many varieties, but the following categories pretty well cover the field:

1. Big Bertha. She's the same gal who drives in front of you on the highway—right down the middle of the road. She drives her shopping cart as if it were a Sherman tank. One thing you must say in her favor: She is predictable. She will either run you down or leave her cart smack in the aisle where you're bound to trip over it.

2. Dottie Dither. She's in a frantic hurry to get out with a tube of toothpaste which she won't need until next week. So she sneaks ahead of you in the checkout line and then discovers she needs cigarettes, clothespins, anchovies and an assortment of items so off-beat that the manager has to go downstairs and open the safe to find them.

3. Helpless Harry. He's feeling put-upon because his wife stuck him with the shopping detail. You can always spot him by the list he carries. It has such jottings as "B. & S. R's," which he is supposed to interpret as "brown-'n'-serve rolls," and "4 D. F. (?)," by which his wife means he is to get four cans of dog food if, but only if, there is a sale on it. If you miss Harry in the supermarket you can always meet him that night in the neighborhood pub, trying to forget.

Gourmets Stray

4. George the Gourmet. He may have a list, too, but he pays small attention to it. He's gaily loading up with hummingbird tongues, fried agave worms and all manner of other delicacies which he doesn't know how to prepare and wouldn't eat if he could. He thinks this sets him apart from the common herd of shoppers. Since there are degrees of idiocy, it probably does.

5. Penniless Pete, or Mrs. Pete. They heap their shopping buggies with grub enough to hold a clambake and then discover that they haven't a cent in their pockets. So the manager, who never saw them before, is supposed to cash a crumpled check, signed with a name that looks like "Nikita S. Khrushchev," and if he says no they take their business elsewhere.

Family Affair

6. Fertile Flossie. She makes shopping a family affair, meaning that the six older children run wild while baby sits in the shopping cart happily knocking bottles off shelves. The older children likewise have been encouraged to express themselves. They clamor for soft drinks, beat each other on the head and steal candy out of your shopping cart.

This doesn't exhaust the list of customers but just thinking about it exhausts your correspondent. Happy supermarketing, your majesties. You behold America at its best and worst.

St. Nicholas and Black Peter to Visit Here Tonight as Old Dutch Custom Is Observed

The Old Dutch Church will again bring St. Nicholas and Black Peter to the community this evening. A pictorial presentation of a Dutch family scene will take place in the churchyard at 6:45 o'clock when after some busy preparations a Dutch mother will gather her family around her and tell them the story of the good saint. The story will be amplified so that all may hear.

At approximately 7 p. m., St. Nicholas and Black Peter will arrive to take their part in the family scene and to distribute candy to all of the waiting children. Mrs. James Cook will represent the Dutch mother and tell the story. Mrs. William Engelen will be in charge of properties to make the scene as realistic as possible.

It is said that Saint Nicholas originally came from Holland. There he visits earth on the 5th of December, the eve of Saint Nicholas Day. Early on the morning of the sixth, he distributes his candies, toys and treasures, then vanishes for a year. Christmas day is devoted by the Hollanders to church rites and pleasant family visiting. It is on Saint Nicholas' Eve that their young people become half wild with joy and expectation. To some of them it is a sorry time, for the saint is very candid, and if any of them have been bad during the year, he is quite sure to tell them so.

When the first Dutch settlers came to New Amsterdam, the image of St. Nicholas was on the deck of the ship. For hundreds of years he had been the patron saint of children, so that it was natural that he should come to the new world with all the other most treasured possessions of the travellers.

Although it is customary to regard the saint as a myth, there actually was a real St. Nicholas, an early Christian bishop, who lived during the fourth century. It was because of his unusual generosity that our ideas of the modern saint have developed. He was the only son of wealthy Christian parents.

Early in his childhood the devout mother taught him the Scriptures. When both parents died during an epidemic, they left the young boy in possession of all their wealth.

Young Nicholas dedicated his life to God's service and moved to Myra, chief city of his province. There he was chosen to be the bishop. His unsurpassed generosity made a deep impression upon his people. In his youth he had learned, by going around among the people, how many were oppressed by poverty. As a result, he often went out in disguise and distributed presents, especially to children.

Because the bishop had also been famed for his ability to calm the sea in times of storm, he became the patron saint of all seafaring men. It is said that Dutch seamen were the first to carry to western Europe tales of the bishop's generosity; as a result, children got their presents on December 6, the anniversary of the good saint's death.

In New York, through the English influence, by the beginning of the 19th century, the St. Nicholas Day celebration had merged with that of Christmas on December 24 and 25, although many towns up along the Hudson continued to observe the festival on its original dates.

This lively old Dutch custom was revived by the Old Dutch Church about 10 years ago and is presented as a community service. All are cordially invited to attend.

The route St. Nicholas will take on his way to the church yard will be Roosevelt Avenue, Albany Avenue, Clinton Avenue, Main Street to the churchyard.

VISITORS WHO STAY TOO LONG

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been ill for two years now. I am never without pain and just don't know how much longer I can bear it. Sometimes I can hardly move, but I've kept going somehow. I do have wonderful friends who call on me often. Sometimes they sit with me for hours and talk. After these visits, I am completely exhausted. I know they mean to help me and I do love to see them, but I don't think they realize what a strain I am under. Short of going to a sanitarium, how can I cope with this problem?

Answer: Unless you have a nurse or some member of your family who can tell your visitors that they must leave because you have to rest, I really don't know what you can do. The only suggestion I can make is that instead of making a great effort to hide your weakness, you plainly show the fatigue that you really feel and tell them frankly that you are getting very tired.

Courtesy Should Be Practical

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me the correct procedure to follow when leaving an elevator. My husband and I were in a hospital elevator the other evening along with several women. We were closest to the door. When we reached the main floor I got out first, but instead of my husband following me, he stepped aside to allow all the women to leave first. I told him that I thought this unnecessary, but he insists that it is only common courtesy.

Answer: Since the elevator was crowded and your husband was actually in the way of the women passengers, it would have been better for everyone had he followed you.

Time To Go Home

Dear Mrs. Post: How may a girl suggest to a boy visitor, without hurting his feelings, that it is time for him to go home?

Answer: She could look at the clock and say, "I am terribly sorry but Mother does not like me to have anyone stay after (whatever the time). I hope you will come again soon."

Siena Alumni Holds First Meeting Here

Kingston Chapter of the Siena College Alumni Association held its first open meeting recently with approximately half of the eligible members present.

Temporary President Joseph W. Robertson appointed the following committees: Nominating committee, Thomas Imperial, William Kaufman, William Knott; rules committee, Vincent Amrod, Vincent Norton, Thomas Rea, William Ryan; membership committee, Frank Koenig, Ben Renaldi, Richard Terlinger; entertainment committee, Donald Beckert, Robert Ryan.

The nominating committee will present two slates of nominees, to be voted upon at the next scheduled meeting. The rules committee are preparing the by-laws for presentation to the membership. The membership committee is attempting to contact prospective eligible members in the area. The entertainment committee is making plans for an installation dinner-dance to be held early in 1958.

Mr. Robertson advises all eligible members in the area to contact him, also temporary vice president Guy A. Vick, or any committee member for further details and information.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be held Thursday, Dec. 12, at 8:30 p. m., at the West Shore Hotel, Kingston.

New Paltz Players Will Stage 'Mikado' December 12 and 13

The New Paltz Players and the College-Community Mixed Chorus of the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, will present "The Mikado" next Thursday and Friday evenings, Dec. 12 and 13, in the College Auditorium at 8:30 p. m.

The production, under the direction of Mrs. Vera Irwin and Horace Fishback, is an operetta written by Gilbert and Sullivan. It combines the musical talents of the Mixed Chorus with the dramatic abilities of the New Paltz Players in one of the first presentations of its type in the history of the College.

The cast for the operetta includes: Jeffrey Laffel, as the Mikado of Japan; Arthur Moore, as Nanki-Poo; Edward Goebel, as Ko-Ko; Richard Mundt, as Pooh-Bah; Gordon Blackey, as Pish-Tush; Judith Wardlaw, as Yum-Yum; Mary Dunham, as Pitti-Sing; Ann Pike, as Peep-Bo and Carol Peskin, as Katisha. The roles of the Mikado and Pooh-Bah will be understudied by Allen Gluck. Carolyn Schrier will be the understudy for Yum-Yum, and Patricia Wynn for Peep-Bo.

The set design chosen was that submitted by Linda Greco, a junior. Miss Greco reports that the sets will be three-dimensional rather than two, and will be done in pastel colors due to the many colorful costumes which will be worn in "The Mikado." Miss Greco's design creates an effect of spaciousness, which was one of the criterion used in the judging of the sets.

Tickets will be on sale at the College Bookstore. Tickets may also be purchased at the door each evening before the performance.

Scout Officials Seek to Attain Girl Scout County-Wide Fund Goal for Programming

The returns realized at the close of the Girl Scout County-wide drive for funds has fallen short of the $7500 goal, according to John Burych, co-chairman of the campaign.

"The campaign was seriously hampered by illness and many other factors," Mr. Burych reported at a meeting of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts held recently at the George Washington School.

Total funds received to date are $4600. The campaign has been extended in order that the goal may be reached, Mr. Burych told the assemblage.

"Although returns are still being received," he said, "all neighborhoods are strongly urged to survey their fund drive organization for any weak spots in community solicitation in order that each group may reach its quota."

As Mr. Burych pointed out, the figure set is needed to meet demands of organizing new troops throughout the county and to provide high calibre programming.

Mr. Burych was assisted during the campaign by Surrogate Judge Charles Gaffney, county chairman, and Louis Suhrhoff, county publicity chairman.

Candlelight Service

Opening the meeting were more than 50 Brownies and Girl Scouts who participated in an impressive candlelighting service. Miss Allayne Yoggy music director at the George Washington School, directed the group in holiday songs and carols.

Clare MacDonald, senior scout of St. Joseph's Church, spoke about the meaning of lighting candles which "symbolizes scout friendship."

Districts Discussed

Mrs. Gordon Anderson, neighborhood coordinator, spoke briefly concerning districting of neighborhoods within the Council area. Districting is a forward step in Council structure, recommended by the National Organization of Girl Scouts of the USA and accepted by active, growing Councils nation-wide. It follows the establishment of strong Neighborhoods. The present Neighborhood organization within the local Council was founded three years ago. Progress has been steady with eleven well-organized Neighborhoods currently functioning. The initial meeting of the Development Committee appointed to study Districting is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 9, at the Girl Scout office, 292 Fair Street, Kingston, at 8 p. m.

It was also announced that Miss Dolores Yorba, Council Adviser of the National Staff, will officially visit Ulster County Council on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 6 and 7. The two-day stay will include numerous conferences with Council committees and individuals. Plans also include a county-wide board of directors' meeting on January 6, at which time Miss Yorba will speak about Districting in Relation to the Growing Needs of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts."

Troop leaders were urged to encourage troop participation in the Camp Savings plan launched throughout the county during November, under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Schneider of Kingston. Under the new plan, girls are enabled to purchase stamps of varying denominations which are placed in the individual Camp Saving folder. Upon registration for camp, the amount is credited to the girl's camping fee. Monday is refunded if a girl is unable to attend camp.

Senior Registration

Mrs. David Ennis, county program chairman, emphasized the need for the registration of all Senior Girl Scouts at the local office during early December. A Senior Girl Scout Roundup, the second to be staged within the United States, will be held early in the summer of 1958, near Colorado Springs. Each Girl Scout Council's quota for attendance at the Roundup will be based upon the registration as of December 31, 1957.

An invitation was issued to all Senior Girl Scouts within the county to attend the Christmas party to be held at the George Washington School on Saturday, at 2 p. m.. The Kingston High School Troop under the direction of Mrs. Marilyn Greenspan, Leader, will be the hostess group. Highlight of the afternoon will be an illustrated lecture, "Touring Europe," by Herbert Greenwald of the Greenwald Travel- Agency. A gift exchange and dancing will follow.

During the remainder of the evening, a colorful report of the 34th Convention of the National Council of the Girl Scouts of the USA was presented to the group by delegates Mrs. Donovan Buehring, Council president and Mrs. Calvin Wygant Sr., of Marlboro, Council vice president. An extensive exhibit of informative materials collected at the National Convention exhibits was arranged in the corridor.

Mothers' Club

A meeting of St. Peter's Mothers' Club will be held tonight at 8 in the school. After a short business meeting, the annual Christmas party will be held. All members are urged to attend.

Sisterhood Plans Meeting

Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel will meet on Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Edwin L. Wetterhahn, 50 Wilson Avenue. An entertaining Chanukah program has been planned. All members are urged to attend. Refreshments will be be served by the hostess after the meeting.

Personals

Miss Ruth Conway, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hans Cohn of Woodstock, will appear in a song recital on Station WNYC on Sunday, 6:30-6:45 p. m. Ilse Sass will be at the piano.

Be sure to defrost frozen corn on the cob before cooking.

Lane Unloads Minoso and Gets Wynn in Return

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—General Manager Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians shopped around today at the baseball convention for a second baseman—preferably Bobby Richardson of the Yankees.

Lane said he was still looking for trades after swapping with the Chicago White Sox yesterday in a deal that sent outfielder Minnie Minoso and infielder Fred Hatfield to Cleveland in exchange for pitcher Early Wynn and outfielder Al Smith.

Bobby Bragan, Cleveland's new manager, expressed pleasure at the trade. "In Minoso, we landed about the liveliest player in the American League," Bragan said. "Players of this sort are definitely going to help the Indians climb out of the rut into which they tumbled last year."

That was the second deal in 24 hours involving the White Sox here. Earlier the Sox sent outfielder Larry Doby and pitcher Jack Harshman and another player to be named later to Baltimore in exchange for infielder Billy Goodman, outfielder Tito Francona and pitcher Ray Moore.

The deals fit in with White Sox Manager Al Lopez' plans to present a brand new outfield. He expects to start Smith in left, Jim Landis, a sophomore, in center and Francona, another sophomore, in right.

Lefthanded pitcher Bill Wight was sold by the Baltimore Orioles to the Cincinnati Reds for a reported $15,000. The 35-year-old pitcher had a 6-6 record last season. He pitched 121 innings in 27 games and had a 3.64 earned run average.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts said the Reds planned to use Wight in relief.

Coast Petition Stymies Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A referendum petition has at least temporarily snafued Walter O'Malley's plans to build a dream stadium for his Los Angeles Dodgers in Chavez Ravine.

Signatures for the petition were collected by a group protesting the city's real estate deal with Dodger Baseball Club of the National League.

The city clerk's office announced yesterday that the petition has the necessary 51,767 bonafide signatures, with several thousand more still to be checked.

O'Malley, president of the club which moved here from Brooklyn, had hoped to start construction immediately on the 10-million dollar ballpark. The referendum means that at best his plans are sidetracked, perhaps permanently derailed.

Larkin Trot Director

MONTICELLO, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—Charles Larkin, a 20-year veteran as a harness track administrator, today was named director of racing at the new Monticello Raceway beginning Jan. 1. Larkin, fifty-five, is a native of Cobleskill, N. Y.

Seixas and Flam Capture Doubles

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—America's Vic Seixas and Herbie Flam, acting as if they had early afternoon tea dates, swept to easy straight set victories over the top tennis aces of the Philippines today to send the United States to a 2-0 lead in the Interzone Davis Cup Final.

First the 34-year-old Seixas of Philadelphia, in razorsharp form, erased Tony Felicismo Ampon, Philippine giant killer, in a match that took only 53 minutes, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

Then Flam, bespectacled bow-Hills, Calif., attempted to match the time schedule, but failed by three minutes as he crushed Philippine champion, Raymondo Deyro, 6-3, 62, 6-2.

The two victories buoyed the spirits of the U. S. Davis Cuppers, whose morale had been shattered by Australian tournament reversals, and brought new hope to their chances of recovery of the famed International Trophy.

Now the Americans need only to win Friday's doubles match to qualify for the next interzone meeting with Belgium in Brisbane Dec. 12-13. A victory over the Belgians would qualify the Americans to challenge Australia for the cup Dec. 26-28 in Melbourne.

Bill Talbert, U. S. Captain, named Seixas and 44-year-old Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, to play the doubles against the Philippine tandem of Ampon and Deyro.

Harness Racing Is Under Study

NEW YORK (AP)—Six committees have been named to study various phases of harness racing in New York State.

The groups were set up yesterday at the conclusion of a two-day meeting attended by more than 100 representatives of state officials, breeders, Harness Track of America, Standardbred Owners Assn., writers, race secretaries and track veterinarians.

The meeting was held in the offices of the State Harness Racing Commission.

Named to head the committees were: Morris MacDonald, horsemen's representative at Roosevelt Raceway, horsemen; Dr. Walter Way, judges; Herman Grannis, Ba-Lewis Burton, vice president and general manager Yonkers Raceway, safety and qualifying; and Dr. Edward M. Kennelly, Yonkers Raceway, veterinarians.

BRAGAN'S HAPPY—Cleveland Indians manager Bobby Bragan expresses his pleasure over the trade with the Chicago White Sox as he uses phone at Colorado Springs, Colo., in attempt to inform Minnie Minoso of the news. Reports of the transfer of Marvin (Moose) Shaub, Kingston High's All-DUSO guard, from the Maroon of Kingston to the Maroon of Harvard appears to have been premature.

The brilliant young scholar-athlete is interested in Johnny Harvard, but has also applied to Yale, Princeton and Cornell where his father, Harry Shaub, distict manager of the Prudential Insurance Company, matriculated. He is expected to make a choice after visiting each campus. Meanwhile, he is keeping a wide open mind on the subject.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Coach John Nania of Middletown is reported blowing his stack because Dave Petrozak, the Middies' star fullback, didn't make the All-DUSO. . . . According to reports from the Middie City, Nania is readying a plan which he hopes to submit to the DUSO Sportswriters Association before they choose the basketball team next March. . . . The coaches selected their own basketball team last spring and picked exactly the same players as the writers. If Sir John has any plans on all-star selection methods, he had better save them for his colleagues. . . . Fleeting Quality of Fame Department: Karl Spooner, who set a National League record for strikeouts in two consecutive games—his first and second in major league baseball—has been drafted by Houston of the Texas League. . . . Thomas McCormack, a junior at St. Peter's Prep School, Peekskill, has been elected captain of the 1958 varsity football team. During the 1957 season, he played left end on the varsity squad. He is the son of Mrs. Alice McCormack and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert V. W. Darrow of High Falls.

• Four of the Big Five:

Four of the DUSO League's Big Five (athletic directors) G. Warren Kias (Kingston), Al Chase (Port Jervis), C. Everett Stevens (Newburgh Academy) and Sam J. Kalloch (Poughkeepsie) attended Ellenville Central's 50th basketball anniversary and dedication of the new gymnasium and court. Jack Hughes, Middletown athletic director, who has been ailing, was unable to attend. Coaches on hand included Pat Farace (Port Jervis), George S. (Lanky) Masterson of Newburgh Academy and Jack Gilligan of Kingston. A. W. (Pete) Roberts, the Elenville AD, was master of ceremonies for the program which was run off swiftly and smoothly. The new Ellenville gym is beautiful, well-lighted and spacious and will seat between 900 and 1,000. The architects might have alloted more space under the baskets, but that is only a minor deficiency. The corridors leading into the gym arena resemble foyers in plush movie theatres. Many notables and several distinguished alumni were introduced by Roberts, including Dr. Arch Freer, who played on the 1907 quintet. The school band furnished the music and the cheerleaders concocted a special cheer for the occasion. It was a night to be remembered in Ellenville Central history and the new gym is something the school district can be proud to possess.

• Of Men and Mice:

Pine Plains Central School, in the football doldrums in recent years, has dropped the sport. Lack of student interest was cited and school officials said the sport would be revived if the students show they want it. Attendance at Pine Plains games has been poor, even in years when the school had a good team. The Pine Plains action came as a surprise to Dutchess circles in that it came at a time when other county schools were expanding their grid teams. Dover Plains, Millbrook and Greer School will switch from 6-man to regulation 11-man football next season. . . . Attendance at Syracuse University's home football games dipped almost 30,000 persons this fall. The five Orange contests drew a total of 128,788 fans compared with 157,480 for the same number a year ago when the Orange won the Eastern title. Absence of a fellow named Jimmy Brown might have affected the gate, don't you think.

DISSENSION NO HANDICAP—At the height of their championship heyday in the Otto Graham era, the Cleveland Browns were riddled with dissension because of the players' resentment of Coach Paul Brown. That's the word of Mac Speedie, the former Browns end who now lives in California. Speedie says Brown was a lone wolf who even stays aloof from his coaching aides, yet he produces winners because he is in complete command even to hiring, firing and trading.

Lakers Plunge Deep in Cellar

By The Associated Press

The Minneapolis Lakers, once the titans of the National Basketball Assn., dropped deeper into the Western Division cellar last night as the sizzling Boston Celtics rallied in the final period to hand the Lakers a 108-98 setback in the only game played.

A doubleheader at Philadelphia involving Detroit against Cincinnati and St. Louis against Philadelphia was postponed until tonight because of a snowstorm.

The Celts, running away with the Eastern Division race, own a 17-2 won-lost mark.

Sports Car Club To Pick Officers

Woodstock Iron Works, the newest sports car club in the state, will elect its first slate of officers tonight at the Twin Gables, on Route 212, Woodstock. The meeting is scheduled at 8 p. m.

A constitution will be adopted and plans outlined for the first annual club rallye which is scheduled Sunday at Woodstock.

1957-58 Seasonal Opener

Arlington Five Short On Seasoned Material

Kingston High will be up against an inexperienced team Friday night when it meets Arlington in its basketball opener at Kate Walton field house.

Coach Fritz Jordan has only one player back from last year's DCSL (central section) championship squad. He's Georgie Thorne, a classy junior shotmaker who played an important role in Arlington's fine 16-3 season.

Former Jayvees carry the hopes of the Dutchess Maroons. Jordan has been forced to dip deep into the JV crop to plug holes left by the graduation of 12 varsity players.

Al Larson, a 6-2 blond, may be the man to handle the all-important center post. He's the biggest boy on the squad and is being counted on to carry the brunt of the rebounding.

Mike Moyer and Gil Baright, a pair of speed merchants, also figure big in Jordan's strategy. Both are very small though, standing just 5-7.

Jordan must pick from the following boys for the rest of his strength: Jerry Anderson, Ed Cabone, Phil Thorne, John Quinn, John Horvath, Jim Kelsey and Ken Sherow.

Chief losses through graduation were Arnie Elkind and Otto Landolfa.

Jordan has a big job ahead and may be facing his toughest coaching task ever. In the past three years, his clubs have built up an outstanding 34-won, 4-lost record. Two years ago they went undefeated.

Arlington beat Kingston last year in their first meeting, 62-58. The Maroon won the second engagement, 66-56, snapping a 26-game winning streak of the Arlingtonites.

Balotin Cagers Down Rangers

Balotin's Five, formerly Accord, trounced the Kingston Rangers, 55 to 39, in an inter-league contest on the YMCA boards.

Armstrong, 16, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Armstrong, 97 Emerick Street, and is a junior. He has been the star halfback for the Maroon the past two season.s

Major Moguls Appear Ready To Unload Rule on Bonuses

By FRANK PITMAN

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Sweeping changes in baseball law were up for decision late today at a closed meeting of minor league executives.

They debated such issues as the bonus rule and unrestricted draft while major league officials at the annual Baseball Convention bargained over player trades.

The bonus rule in effect since 1950 is expected to be scrapped. Major league player representatives at a meeting here yesterday joined in the demands for repeal of the bonus regulation.

A proposal for the unrestricted draft of four-year players was reported due for approval at today's session.

Hurts Seasoned Players

The present rule labels as a bonus player any youngster who receives more than $4,000 to sign his first organized baseball contract. Major league clubs that sign a bonus player must retain him for two years. If signed by a minor club, the player is subject to unrestricted draft before his contract can be transferred to another club.

Major players object on grounds that keeping untested youngsters on major rosters for two years blocks out seasoned players. They claim it deprives the majors of valuable service from the experienced players.

An unrestricted draft of four-year players is proposed by the nine-man major-minor league executive committee, headed by commissioner Ford Frick.

If adopted, the rule would permit unrestricted selection of all players reserved by minor league clubs of AA classification and higher after four years service in organized baseball. The same would apply to players with three years service on Class A league rosters and after two years on Class B and Class C rosters.

No Radical Changes

The executive session on amendments came as the lineup of 1958 minor leagues emerged from a long series of meetings among club owners and major league officials.

Except for the Pacific Coast League and the Texas League, most of the minors will be basically the same as last year.

The PCL, evicted from San Francisco and Los Angeles by the National League Giants and Dodgers, still wrestled with a proposal to move the Hollywood franchise to Salt Lake City. The PCL Los Angeles club is ticketed for Spokane and the San Francisco franchise is headed for Phoenix.

The Texas League wrangled over proposals to merge or not to merge with two teams—Mexico City and Monterrey — from the Mexican League.

The tempo of trading by the major executives stepped up yesterday when the Chicago White Sox completed their second deal in 24 hours.

It sent outfielder Minnie Minoso and utility infielder Fred Hatfield to Cleveland for pitcher Early Wynn and outfielder Al Smith.

Clear Aragon On Fix Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Boxer Art Aragon was cleared yesterday of fight-fixing charges which, for almost a year, threatened to reduce his lucrative ring career to a round of intramural matches at San Quentin prison.

Aragon, now 30, was the nation's third-ranking welterweight and one of the biggest drawing cards in Los Angeles ring history when an unranked club fighter named Dick Goldstein charged Aragon offered him $500 to take a dive in a fight at San Antonio.

The bout, scheduled for last Dec. 18, was cancelled when Aragon came down with a virus the day of the fight.

However, the Los Angeles County Grand Jury indicted Aragon on felony fight-fixing charges, on grounds the alleged offer was made in Los Angeles.

Aragon was convicted last February and sentenced to 1 to 5 years in prison.

The district court of appeals reversed the conviction and ordered a new trial.

Yesterday, District Attorney William B. McKesson dismissed the case.

Bookies Target Of TRA Edict

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Thoroughbred Racing Assn. of the United States has forbidden member tracks to permit bookmaking on their premises.

In another addition to the association's Code of Standards, members were warned yesterday that suspension or explusion from the organization will follow "any activity, conduct or association on the part of officers or directors of a member track that brings justifiable public criticism against the member track, the association or thoroughbred racing."

Ryan Won't Join Rams

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 4 (AP) —Frank Ryan, Rice quarterback, said today he has decided not to play professional football. Ryan was drafted Monday by the Los Angeles Rams.

BOWLING SCORES

Bill Lawrence bounced back from a 179 opener to stack 256 and 230 for 665 series in last night's session of the Bowlero Major League.

Ken Joseph and Frank Grimaldi fired 612 each in the same league.

Dot Rawding anchored Federal Venetian Blind with a 576 threesome on lines of 201, 170 and 205.

Byrne Chevrolet swept a trio from Jones Dairy No. 1 to open up a two-and-one-half game lead over Jones Dairy No. 2 and Alpine Inn in the battle for team honors in the Bowlero Major.

Cougar Back Tops in Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Quarterback Bobby Newman of Washington State captured major college football's total offense championship in 1957 by a scant 19 yards—the smallest title-winning margin in 18 years.

The 21-year-old junior passed and ran for 1,444 yards (1,391 and 53) in 10 games to edge runnerup Bill Austin of Rutgers. Final statistics released by the NCAA service bureau today showed that Austin accounted for 1,425 yards in nine games.

Dwight Nichols of Iowa State was a close third with a total yardage output of 1,419 in 10 contests.

Austin, a 19-year-old junior, boasted the best total offense mark per-game, averaging 158.3.

Hardin-Simmons' Ken Ford finished with a flurry to emerge as the leading passer with 115 completions, 11 more than Newman. Stuart Vaughan of Utah caught 53 aerials to wind up as the leading pass receiver and No. 2 in all-time season listings.

Two Title Contenders

Kansas and Kentucky Impress in Openers

By The Associated Press

Kansas and Kentucky, each tabbed a strong contender for North Carolina's national collegiate basketball championship, have broken from the barrier in a hurry.

So has Wilt (the Stilt) Chamberlain, the Jayhawks' amazing marksman.

Both "K" teams hung up their second victories of the infant campaign last night. The Jayhawks rode over Canisius 66-46 as Chamberlain poured in 32 points and Kentucky nipped highly-rated Ohio State, 61-54.

Pittsburgh also scored impressively, 72-62 over Michigan and tiny St. Norbert College upset supposedly-loaded Marquette 49-47.

Kansas, which whipped Oklahoma State Monday night, led by only 28-24 at halftime. But, with Chamberlain catching fire with 20 points, the Jayhawks crushed Canisius in the second half. Wilt the Stilt's output gave him a 62 point total for the year.

Buckeyes Stubborn

Ohio State gave Kentucky a rough time. The Buckeyes are rated tops in the Big 10—along with Michigan State and Indiana—and they showed the Wildcats why. They managed to deadlock the game at 39-39 in the second half, but Vern Hatton's jump shot snapped the tie and the Wildcats led the rest of the way.

Don Hennon, Pitt's 5-8 scoring ace, collected 26 points on eight field goals and 10 free throws in a rough game that saw three players from each team sidelined on fouls. Michigan came back strong in the second half to cut down a sizeable lead to three points. But Pitt rallied for eight straight points to sew it up.

Marquette's loss was its second in two starts.

Colgate Nixes Tieup With Ivy

HAMILTON (AP)—The secretary of Colgate University says the Red Raiders are not interested in joining the Ivy League.

Colgate's president, Dr. Everett N. Case, said Tuesday the university would welcome "all invitations to schedule games with Ivy League members." This was interpreted as a move toward membership in the league.

The university secretary, Reed Alvord, said yesterday Case meant increased ties with schools in the eight-team league and not membership.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor

Without knowing a dog's performance, it is impossible to even come close to giving its exact value.

Even after a few hours in the field, the value would be subject to likes and dislikes. Seasonal supply and demand and the purpose for which the dog was to be used would have to be taken into consideration and, above all, the seller's and a particular buyer's emotional reaction — quite human when dealing in dogs.

The dog is described as a four-year-old golden retriever female, registered, sired by a champion, and trained for the field. This retriever would have been fairly priced — innoculated and in good health—at from $125 to $200 as a six-months-old puppy.

Factors to Watch

As she matured, her training would progress until at a year she might be at a professional trainer's at $75 per month for six months. She now represents an investment of $500.

If she is then gunned over and/or run in trials for a couple of seasons she will gain experience and finish. If she now responds well to hand and whistle signals, is steady to wing and shot, demonstrates good nose, marks well and retrieves readily to hand over land and water, she is well worth the investment.

If she does this with zest, style, drive and with a high order of dependability and speed, she could be worth the $7,500 paid for the golden, Oak Ridge Van Cleve.

If she does it with mediocrity, inconsistency, lapses of memory or behavior, occasional refusals or signs of some fundamental flaw, such as poor depth perception, she might be worth anything down to $50 for a nice pet.

* * *

When Sputnik II was launched there was great consternation about the sacrifice of the living passenger.

The concern of the multitudes leaves me cold. Not that I advocate the use of dogs or any other animals for experimentation in space conquest, but almost all indignant individuals are driving projectiles of sorts which taken collectively are maiming and killing thousands of dogs every day.

Some killings are unpreventable and many are the indirect responsibility of irresponsible owners, but what surprises and aggravates me is the callous, seemingly thoughtless indifference that the man behind the wheel has toward circumstances in the road ahead.

Time after time I have approached a traffic-wise dog that suddenly found the traffic too complex or an inexperienced dog that panicked when almost hit by one car and ran in front of others.

Drivers Could Help

I've put my arm out to signal an emergency slow-down and even edged out to discourage a pass, only to have the drivers behind try more desperately than ever to pass, completely heedless of the life that may be taken by their superior impatience.

I've seen thousands of drivers pass through small communities of people and children and dogs with not the least decrease in speed — and if following, and I slowed down to keep my car under proper control in case one should cross my path, they couldn't pass fast enough.

I remember a village street with cars parked on both sides of two lanes of traffic when a little pup, being brought home for the first time, jumped out of a car window and ran around, frightened, under the cars.

I went into the road and tried desperately to flag down the passing cars until the little fellow could be caught and was nearly run down repeatedly, myself, by indignant earth-bound Sputnik pilots.

Is this the kind of indignation exhibited when a single dog is used for the advancement of science?

Rangers Drop Four Behind

By The Associated Press

The New York Rangers were four points behind front-running Montreal today with the four other clubs moving up to within striking distance in the National Hockey League race.

New York blew another one on home ice last night as Goalie Glenn Hall rang up his fifth shutout for Chicago in a 2-0 victory. The Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs battled to a 0-0 deadlock in the other game.

The results moved Toronto only one point behind third-place Boston and the Hawks into fifth place past Detroit.

Brown KOs Lopes in 11

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — Lightweight Champion Joe Bronw, fresh from blasting aside game, but overmatched Joey Lopes today was poised for a probable February title defense against Ralph Dupas at Houston, Tex.

Brown last night scored an 11th-round technical knockout of Lopes in a nationally-televised championship bout.

On points, Lopes was still very much in the Chicago Stadium fight until the champion lowered the boom in 1:50 of the 11th round, but actually Brown was toying with the 4-1 underdog from Sacramento, Calif., virtually from the start.

Brown fought a retreating fight in the early rounds, but scarcely used a right hand punch. In the seventh, the champion exploded right to the chin which floored Lopes for a count of four.

The fight really was over right then.

Hits Deck Twice

In the 11th, Lopes was floored twice before referee Joey White signaled a TKO.

Each fighter weighed 133½ for the scheduled 15-rounder, but that was the only thing really even about the match, despite the fact Referee White called it all-square, 45-45 after 10 rounds.

Judge James Mc Manus had Brown ahead 46-44 and Judge John Bray also saw it for Brown, 47-44. The AP card had Brown in front 45-44.

Brown's manager, Lou Viscusi, said the champion was considering an offer for a match against Dupas, Kenny Lane or Italy's Duilio Loi.

A Brown-Dupas match at Houston in February was probable.

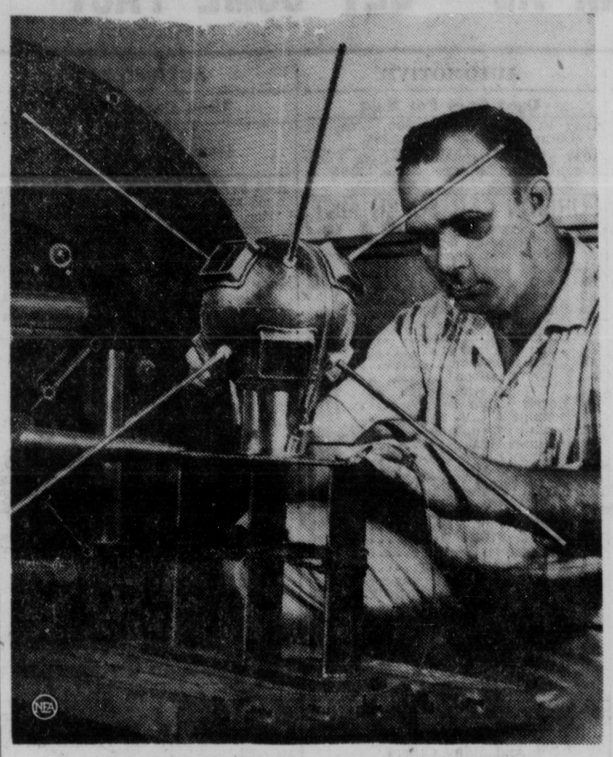
Baby Moon Will Tell Researchers Plenty



By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — Even though America's first satellite may only take a third place in the space sweepstakes, it will still go down in history as a revolutionary scientific achievement.

As a scientist at the Naval Research Laboratory says:

"It may not be first, and it's only a baby, but we can call it our baby and that makes the big difference."

There's more than sentiment in this comment. Launching your own satellite gives you a great advantage in extracting scientific results from it. Plus that, it's possible that the sophisticated, miniaturized electronic equipment in the first U. S. baby moon will end up providing more information on the characteristics of space and the shape of the earth than both of the Russian Sputniks.

The first vital reports expected from the U. S. baby satellite, not available from the Sputniks, are constant temperature measurements.

* * *

It was estimated that temperatures on the skin of the baby moon would be from 18 to 54 degrees Fahrenheit. But they could vary from 18 degrees below zero to 90 degrees above. Readings will vary depending on whether the satellite is in the sun or the earth's shadow.

Tiny crystals in the two radio transmitters will make slight variations in the 108 megacycle signal sent to earth, indicating changes in heat in the satellite. Delicate instruments recording the megacycle variations will reveal the temperature changes. Signals are a steady hum, not beeps.

Temperatures from the heart of the satellite as well as from the skin will be transmitted back to earth.

"Ultimately this information will tell us what we must know in order to put humans into space machines," Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the U. S. satellite project, says.

* * *

Six solar cells, which look like windows in the baby moon and provide electrical energy from the sun, power one of the tiny transmitters. This could keep signals coming from the first U. S. satellite for the duration of its life, whatever that may be. It's a significant advance over the Sputniks.

Seven tiny mercury batteries, each two inches long and five-eighths of an inch in diameter, will supply nine volts of electricity to the other transmitter for two weeks.

These signals, coming to earth at minor variations of 108 megacycles, make the U. S. satellite far more susceptible to exact tracking than the Sputniks. They will provide a whole range of scientific data not previously known.

They will permit exact mapping of continents and give exact distances between the earth's land masses. For example, for the first time geographers will be able to locate Hawaii within a few inches of its true location relative to the North American continent. This distance hasn't previously been known within many yards.

Details

Six antennae, each 12 inches long, 5/16 of an inch in diameter, made of aluminum.

Polished aluminum casing 6.4 inches in diameter and 1/32 of an inch thick.

Six solar cell "windows" in the casing, each two inches square, ⅛ of an inch thick. They take heat from the sun and turn it into electrical energy for one of the two transmitters.

Two radio transmitters each two inches in diameter and ¾ of an inch thick. Each weighs about one ounce.

A silver-plated can in the middle of the satellite, three inches long and two and ⅜ in diameter, holding the two transmitters and the batteries

Seven mercury batteries, each two inches long and ⅝ of an inch in diameter, which power the second transmitter. Together the batteries provide nine volts of electrical energy and will last two weeks.

Ten feet of sub-miniature coaxial cable connecting the antennae, radio and solar and mercury batteries.

The two halves of the round casing are fastened together with 24 small aluminum bolts.

Total weight of the satellite is 3¼ pounds.

Scientifically exact tracking of the U. S. moon will provide information giving the true shape of the earth, which is known not to be exactly round.

All of this information, Dr. Hagen points out, is strictly a scientific bonus. "The original, prime purpose of the baby moons," he says, "was to test the launching equipment for the 20-inch satellite."

"We instrumented these baby satellites just in case they did get into an orbit," he explains.

Information which the U. S. gleaned from tracking the Sputniks revealed that the atmosphere about 140 miles above the earth was roughly five times as dense as was originally estimated by U. S. scientists.

This is really a small difference because the atmosphere is practically non-existant anyway. But far more exact measurements of this density will be available from the U. S. moon.
